Police contract signed

by Jeff Nazzaro

Wilmington Police agreed to terms for a three-year contract with the Town of Wilmington after working with an expired agreement for close to nine months.

The board of selectmen met in executive session for around ten minutes Monday night and, upon emerging, voted 4-0 to approve the collective bargaining agreement struck between the town and Local 318 of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers, the Wilmington Police union. Selectman Chester Bruce, whose son Chip is a patrolman in the department, abstained from voting and executive session discussion relative to the contract.

The contract is retroactive to June 30, 1994, the date the previous agreement expired, and grants police a two-and-a-half percent raise effective Jan. 1 of this year, followed by increases of three percent for fiscal year 1996 and three-and-a-half percent for FY-97. No raise was given for the first six months of the agreement. The contract expires on June 30, 1997.

Town Manager Michael Caira, in making the announcement, said the long negotiations, which began prior to the contract's expiration, were "very cordial and very positive." Caira specifically complimented the police officers' union representatives.

"We believe it is a fair contract both for the town and the police officers," Caira stated.

Another key term of the agreement is a two dollar per hour raise, from $23 to $25, in detail pay. Such pay is largely the responsibility of private corporations, who sometimes hire patrolmen for traffic control, and the state, who will use detail officers to monitor traffic and safety at roadwork sites.

Wilmington officers will also be granted a $20 increase in footwear allowances in the second year of the contract and a $20 increase in the allowance for uniform cleaning in the third year of the agreement.

Additionally, a minor physical fitness requirement clause was deleted, while it was agreed that incentive pay for college credit would be granted only to officers who gained academic achievement in college courses dealing with law enforcement or criminal justice.

Local 318 President and Wilmington Patrolman Stephen Mauriello seemed somewhat less pleased with the final outcome than did Caira Monday night.

"We negotiated for more than a year and I guess more than anything I'm just glad it's over," Mauriello said Tuesday.

Cain calls on ethics commission

by Jeff Nazzaro

Citing a lack of action both legally and in the press over the recently completed investigation that disclosed criminal wrongdoings within the Wilmington Water and Sewer Department, Selectman Robert Cain addressed the State Ethics Commission with complaints against Selectmen Diane Allan and Gerald Duggan, and then used Monday's board meeting to air those complaints.

No charges were brought as a result of the investigation, primarily because the attorney general's office chose to concentrate on larger crimes and because Wilmington Police Chief Bobby Stewart felt the town would be unable to prosecute some of the more serious violations locally. Instead, Town Manager Michael Caira restructured the water and sewer department, making it a part of the DPW.

In his letter to the ethics commission, Cain charges that Allan (whose husband is a former water and sewer commissioner and is not named in an extensive police report detailing the investigation) and Duggan (whose brother, Paul, was superintendent of the department and is named in the report) tried to undo these safeguards after having "established a subcommittee ... to 'investigate' the Water and Sewer Department." The subcommittee was formed by then Chairman Chester Bruce. Allan and Duggan did recommend that the water and sewer department be removed from the control of the DPW, a suggestion blasted by Caira.

A similar charge against Allan and Duggan was made by Selectmen Chairman Michael McCoy at a February meeting.

Cain also states in his letter that Allan and Duggan participated in executive session discussions with selectmen, Caira, and Stewart, and attempted "to influence [Stewart] not to release the names of those involved.

Following the meeting, both Allan and Duggan called the content's of Cain's letter "totally ridiculous." Duggan stated during the meeting that Cain challenged the integrity of the police department.

"I don't think the integrity of the police department should be challenged by any politician or quasi-politician," Duggan said.

Allan, who had previously said she would respond to McCoy's charges at an earlier March meeting, said Monday she would make statements concerning the investigation only through the press and not the forum of selectmen's meetings.

Recreation director's job on the line again

by Jeff Nazzaro

For the second consecutive year, Recreation Director Ron Swasey's job will be on the line at Annual Town Meeting. The news came from Town Manager Michael Caira during a budget-update he gave to the board of selectmen Monday night after receiving a report from the finance committee recommending the cut.

Last year, after hearing the recommendation from the finance committee to eliminate Swasey's job, town meeting voted overwhelmingly to maintain the position.

In his preliminary budget for fiscal year 1996, Caira, as with last year's budget, appropriated a salary for the position of recreation director. This year's figure carries a $2,820 raise over last year's.

"It's in the budget and I'm supporting, just as I did last year, the continuation of the position," Caira said.

Caira added an additional full-time recreation salary of $23,420, while scaling part time allotments from last year's $25,381 to $9,300. The total increase for recreation personnel proposed by Caira is $10,159. Proposed appropriations for recreation department contractual services and materials and supplies remain consistent with last year's budget, at $200 and $2,500, respectively.

The finance committee is also recommending the town purchase only two of the five new police cruisers the police department is asking for. At last year's town meeting, residents voted to appropriate funds for five cruisers.

With these proposed cuts, the budget stands $2,200 in the black, in light of an approximate $105,000 downgrade in state lottery receipt projections.

However, if the budget pending in the State House is passed with a provision that would put lottery revenues for cities and towns back to 1995 funding levels, Caira said the current town budget would be reduced by $75,000.

But should this happen, Caira said the town could use excess FY-95 funds for snow and ice removal - courtesy of the year's mild winter - to purchase FY-96 capital equipment this fiscal year.

"We have the flexibility of the current situation in the snow account to deal with any shortcomings in lottery revenues," he said.

Caira said he would release a "more detailed report," including additional information on the potential lottery problem, at the April 10 selectmen's meeting.

by Jeff Nazzaro

The Wilmington Memorial Library Long Range Planning Committee wants to know what you think. To that end, the committee will be conducting a pair of surveys to gauge such things as extent of library use and what services patrons would like to see added.

Library Director Sarah Rueter, who took over the post last fall, and Committee Chairperson Christina Stewart - also a library employee - made the announcement as scheduled guests before the board of selectmen Monday night. Other committee members are Martha Stevenson, Lester White and Steve Leet.

Stewart said the first of the surveys will be conducted in the library from April 3 through April 15, with an aim at determining how present library patrons are using the library. These questionnaires are to be filled out after library use for that day is completed.

The second survey will coincide with National Library Week and will be mailed to each household in Wilmington with the next town water bill. The purpose of this survey will be to gauge who uses the library and why, or why not; and what services need improvement or adding to the library's current resources.

These latter surveys may be dropped off either at the town manager's office at Town Hall, or at the Memorial Library.

Library patrons and townspeople "input really matters," Stewart said, "and it will help us develop a plan that will hopefully allow us to improve library services."

Two plead guilty to gambling charges

Two men pleaded guilty recently in federal court to running an illegal gambling enterprise.

United States Attorney Donald K. Stern announced that Louis DeFazio, 68 of Newtonville, and Gerald R. Vinal, 53 of Magazine St., Wilmington, pleaded guilty in federal court before United States District Court Judge Douglas P. Woodlock to a charge of operating an illegal gambling business.

On March 6, DeFazio and Vinal were charged by the filing of an information under a federal statute that prohibits individuals from conducting, financing, managing, supervising, directing, or owning a gambling business that (1) is unlawful under the laws of the state in which it is operated; (2) involves five or more persons; and (3) operates continuously for more than 30 days, or has a gross revenue of $2,000 or more in any single day.

At the plea hearing, a federal prosecutor told Judge Woodlock that DeFazio and Vinal owned and operated a business in Wilmington, named Tech Vend, that leased video poker machines and other devices from 1988 to 1993. According to the prosecutor, Vinal and DeFazio leased video poker machines to numerous social clubs in Somerville, No. Reading, Waltham, Medford, Stoughton, Andover, Tewksbury, Belmont and Lawrence knowing that the social clubs would be using the machines as gambling devices. DeFazio and Vinal split the gambling proceeds 50/50 with the social clubs whose patrons engaged in gambling with the video poker machines.

Cop at The Drop

In his 30-year tenure as chief of police in Wilmington, Paul Lynch was like a fixture. Now, retired for 15 years, he has become a fixture on a bench at "The Drop" at Silver Lake, wondering if Chucky Flynn actually did ditch the loot from the Bonded Vault robbery in the lake.

Absentee ballots available

Absentee ballots are available for the April 15 election at the Wilmington town clerk's office. One may make application and vote in person during regular hours 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. up until noon the Friday before election April 14.

A ballot may also be requested to be mailed to the voter. This requires a request in writing sent to the town clerk's office. Questions may be directed to 658-2030.

North Street School students of the month

Each month, in Tewksbury's North Street School, at least one child per classroom is honored as "Student of the Month." The status is earned as a result of completing a project on a voluntary basis that his/her teacher considers outstanding in that classroom.

Students are then honored in the following manner:

Names announced through the public address system; a certificate is presented by the principal; a coupon to be exchanged at the school store for school related merchandise; a school logo button which says "I'm worth it."

The winners for February:

Kindergarten: Jared Giliberti, Kyle Monico, Joseph Occhiuti, Matthew Pennie, Rebecca Sears.

Grade one: Sarah Brennan, Michael Capuano, Michelle Cronin, Daniel Johnson.

Grade two: Matthew Hirsh, Sarah Russell, Ashley Taipale.

Grade three: Gregory Ainsworth, Lauren Bagley, Marie McIntosh, Russell Morin.

Grade four: Erin Coakley, Bethany Dane, Megan Martineau.

Grade five: Jeff Cole, Billy Ward.

Thanks to Elaine Zunino, a North Street parent, and the PAC for their help and support with this project.

IF YOU CAN'T PAY YOUR TAXES NOW

Given: that your income tax return and the tax payment are due on April 15. What happens if you can't pay the bill?

Do file your return and, if the amount owed is less than $10,000, include a Form 9465 asking for an installment agreement. Generally, the taxpayer suggests possible terms that the IRS will either accept or reject within 30 days. If the amount due is over $10,000, a Form 433A financial disclosure form must be submitted, too.

What's important to remember is that interest and penalties start to accrue right away. The late payment penalty is 0.5 percent a month, up to a maximum of 25 percent of the unpaid tax bill. The IRS has recently raised its interest rate - and it's compounded daily!

Taxpayers who doubt that they can ever pay their bill can make an offer in compromise, which the IRS has been more willing to accept. Trouble is, the IRS can attach the taxpayer's entire net worth, so an acceptable compromise offer has to be for more than that.

Smart choice: before you get into tax trouble, discuss your finances with the folks at

Thanks for everything, Jay

by Bill Conlon

Tewksbury marks the departure of a long-serving Selectman with this week's election.

John J. "Jay" Kelley will not appear on the ballot on Saturday, for the first time in nine years. As a curious footnote to history, Kelley defeated Tom Girard to win a seat on the board in 1986, and now Girard is running to regain his post, just as Kelley is stepping down.

But that sort of ironic humor is Kelley's stock in trade. His witticisms on the board have often been subtle, frequently biting, and almost always delivered with a straight face.

Before serving as a Selectman, Kelley spent 11 years on the town Finance Committee, poring over the town's finances for hours on end. An optical engineer by trade, and now a technical sales and marketing rep for Xenon in Wilmington, Kelley is one of the best educated, and surely best informed Selectmen that the town has ever known. He doesn't miss much at all.

When the history of Tewksbury in the current age is written, Jay Kelley's name will appear as taking part in the most profound changes to ever affect the town. In the past nine years, Tewksbury has seen major changes.

Kelley was on the board when the town shifted from a selectmen to a town manager form of government. Work on the change had been done over a period of years, but Kelley was there when David Cressman was given the nod as Tewksbury's first selectmen.

Kelley took part in the historic firing of the then-Board of Appeals. It is very rare for a town to have to dismiss a sitting board, and the debate was acrimonious at times, but Tewksbury did it, and Kelley was there.

And the Kelley was on hand for the ribbon-cutting for the new water treatment plant. For the first time in generations, Tewksbury no longer needs to purchase water from outside sources, or use questionable wells.

Add to that list condominiums, Wal-Mart, affordable housing, the Master Zoning Plan and a host of other changes, and it is quickly apparent that Jay Kelley's term has been a busy one.

But now, Kelley has decided to step down from the board, to spend more time with Maureen and their three boys.

Thanks for everything, Mister Kelley. It has certainly been interesting.

Letters to the editor

We must protect our ground water

Dear Larz:
I would ask that the following letter be printed in full so the residents of Wilmington will know the true story concerning the remarks made by Town Manager Cairra on public television at the 3/13 selectmen's meeting.

Dear Mr. Cairra:
I just returned from a trip south and had the chance to view the 3/13 selectmen's meeting. My question has been, "Will you ever do anything to protect our watersheds?", now I know the answer!

You made the point in your remark to Selectman Duggan in reference to me, that he has so many issues that it is hard to know what they all are. It's quite simple, what my concern has been. It's protection of water supply.

The question put to you which should help Mr. Duggan to get his answers, when he asked "What are they?", some follow:

1. Shea's use of 'town' property, zoned residential, obtained from the state for watershed and wellfield protection now being used for his industry, against zoning bylaws. Why is this allowed to continue? What are you going to do to end this abuse of town property? Do you lease it to him? Who gets the money? Is the money listed in the town annual report and where? Shouldn't a lease come before Town Meeting so residents have their say?

2. 1974 water and sewer report, annual town report, page 49. Quote "It is obvious that long term requirements of Wilmington must be met from regional supplies outside the town, because sufficient water is not available in Wilmington either from groundwater (wells) or surface resources." Mr. Cairra! You were one of the selectmen that year. Question asked often of you, When, where do we go and at what price? As town manager on top of everything, and having an assistant, you should be able to answer this. They say what goes around comes around. Why will you not answer these questions?

3. There is another excellent study no doubt gathering dust on your shelf like Eliot's plan has. I doubt you have digested it. It is the "North Suburban Water Supply Protection Plan," done by the Metropolitan Area Planning Council in 1992. Is it being totally ignored by you and others in Wilmington like Eliot's master plan? Have you missed the heart of their study? There is no place else for water! Protect what you have! What is your plan?

4. In June 1990 we paid for an Aquifer Protection Study for Board of Water & Sewer Commissioners. What we got from that Commission at town meeting was a watered down set of aquifer protection bylaws, bylaws that did not even meet study recommendations. These were to be rewritten, even you said it. My question is when? When you consider item 3 it's very, very important. It is even more important today with what is going on with Corey's property off Ainsworth Road next to Route 125.

5. Concerning property owned by Corey, I have fought, battled to keep it as clean watershed for our Brown's Crossing wellfield for years. Even had it rezoned residential by residents with a 98 percent vote at town meeting. I suggest you look at the map in the Town of Wilmington's annual report of 1957, done by Planning and Renewal Associates. It shows the Corey property as swamp. True, much of our swamp areas shown back then, even shown as undrainable has been drained and developed. This directly impacts watershed recharge, therefore water supply. Good water is what brought me to Wilmington at the start. I only want to see water protected. Town actions have indicated your lack of interest in its' protection.

6. Personally I feel the town's attorney just rolled over to allow Corey to defeat the planning board's denial for Corey's industrial subdivision of his area, Ainsworth Road to Route 125. Corey now has been given the right to develop it industrial through Superior Court and to use Ainsworth Road as his access. (Which you at the 3/13 meeting said he never could). In 20 some years there has been no help from you or preceding town managers to protect this watershed area. All we ask is please answer our questions. How is not protecting watershed good for the residents of Wilmington? The heart of the reason Duggan might have asked his questions?

I take it as a personal affront the remarks you made at the 3/13 selectmen public meeting. You answered Mr. Duggan like I am some sort of weirdo with lots of issues. It is not what you said, but what you implied. People know who you have talked about an you made this quite public. So this letter is going public in my own defense. Wanting watershed and water supplies protected, Mr. Cairra is not weird! Not where I come from.

Today with present political attitudes, let me quote from DEP's Joint Motion to Stay concerning the Corey issue before DEP, just issued by Vinca J. Jarrett, Deputy General Counsel, DEP. "All parties (parties include town, meaning you) are in agreement that it is in their interest to work cooperatively in the development of a project that maximizes the protection of interests under the Wetland Protection Act (this only covers wetland plants and wildlife not watersheds), as well as accommodates the interests of local residents and the developer in maximizing potential profits." Maybe Mr. Cairra, you can not read this all very clearly? This watershed has no protection. Where is it protected? How is it protected? The developer sure is, but not the residents of Wilmington for their water.

What you do to help, that's up to you.

The town's 1957 annual report had this to say, "It is most important that the town resist any temptation to lower standards which protect and conserve the human and economic resources of the town. Constant civic vigilance is not only the price of continued progress but also the best insurance against selfish interests seeking to exploit the advantage of the town contrary to the general welfare." In that 1957 annual town report there was submitted by planning a professional plan for Wilmington's future. This plan was basically ignored for there were families in Wilmington who thought their plans better. They had their special interests. It took 13 years more for planning to get an expert comprehensive plan up for Wilmington by Eliot, but we had a group of those in power, selectmen and town manager who would not appoint the citizen advisory group to coordinate it. Why not! It took away too much of their power and might have put it in the hands of the residents. That could not be allowed! That puts us where we are today. Without really a good master plan. Eliot had watershed and wellfield protection up front for the future of Wilmington. Where does it stand with your planning today?

It is said that actions speak louder than words. The lack of your action on the watershed issues and quality of life for the residents has said it all, to me and I'm willing to say it in writing to you. I'm writing this not only to defend myself, but all the other concerned residents of Wilmington who care to have their watersheds and wellfields protected. Seeing how you and the town fathers have seen fit not to acquire it as town land and you have failed here to develop it residential, you can see where it stands now. A main question for Mr. Duggan and all the selectmen to answer is when we lose this watershed what happens then? It supplies the No.(1) first and the largest wellfield in Wilmington.

Sincerely,
Conrad Gerhartz

It's politics as usual

Dear Larz:
Readers should be notified that last week's published letter to the editor written by Ann Grieve regarding School Committee candidate Doug Sears' political affiliation was in fact written by Ann Marie Gay under her maiden name; she is the wife of School Committee candidate David Gay. In her zealotness to gain votes for her husband's candidacy, Mrs. Gay failed to understand that this town's local races are not between local parties.

The School Committee race is about informed, educated, and impartial candidates willing to dedicate time and energy to make our public schools more productive and more safe for our children. Strong leadership and positive change are the issues confronting us in the School Committee election, not the political affiliation nor future aspirations of candidates. Mrs. Gay, or Ann Grieve, may be a concerned parent, but she is far from an impartial voice in this election and her letter was a self serving attempt to boost her husband's campaign over a non issue at the expense of another candidate.

Signed,
Edward G. Kontos,
Tewksbury

Dear Larz:
Last year while selecting courses form my senior year, I was disappointed to discover that Wilmington High School (WHS) offered no honors level courses in European History. The only such course offered by the Social Studies Department was a level three Western Civilization class for sophomores, and I was told by several members of the faculty that this course was not appropriate for a senior.

A European History course is critical in my career goal since it will be my major at Framingham State College, I was overjoyed when the head of the Social Studies Department, Mr. Carl Olsson, gave me the option of taking an Independent Study in European History. I was to be jointly advised by Mr. Olsson and Mr. Paul T. Fleming, principal, since they were the most qualified faculty members to conduct the project with me.

Upon Mr. Olsson's unfortunate illness and absence from school, Mr. Fleming took time out of his busy schedule to advise me on his own. I decided to study the Napoleonic Era and researched the topic thoroughly on my own time. With enthusiastic, critical input and guidance from Mr. Fleming, I completed several graded, in-depth essays and was very satisfied with my work.

After finishing with my research and writing, Mr. Fleming approached me with the option of teaching the subject to a sophomore Western Civilization class. Since I wish to become a high school history teacher, I enthusiastically accepted and spent a week and a half as a student teacher under the guidance of Mr. Richard Scanlon, whose constructive criticism and guidance made my task much easier. To the disappointment of my students, I was not an easy teacher! assigned graded homework almost every night and gave a quiz and a final exam. The participation and positive feedback from the students gave me a feeling of great elation, and solidified my aspirations to become an educator.

My Independent Study and student teaching which accompanied it were the greatest and most rewarding experiences in my life. I would like to take this opportunity to strongly encourage any student who is truly interested in a course of study which is not formally offered at WHS to approach either Mr. Fleming or any faculty member about conducting an Independent Study. The high school curriculum is flexible enough to allow a motivate student to work independently to his greatest potential. Any student who seeks out this unique opportunity will find it to be as rewarding, or perhaps more rewarding, than I did.

Rescue workers move a person injured in Thursday's three-car accident on Interstate 93 in Wilmington. Four were injured in the collision, which backed up traffic on I-93 for two hours. Two were seriously hurt and were transported via MedFlight helicopter to Boston's Beth Israel Hospital. One was transported to Lahey Clinic in Burlington by Reading Fire Department ambulance and another was taken to Lawrence General Hospital by North Reading ambulance. No local people were involved in the accident. Wilmington Fire Dept. Lt. John Brown assumed command of the entire incident and Wilmington firefighters used the Jaws of Life to extricate victims from two cars. "Wilmington's job out there was pretty much to coordinate the accident scene as far as extrication, treatment, and transport," Wilmington Fire Chief Dan Stewart said (photo by Stu Neilson).

Letters to the editor

Thank you to Sean's friends

Dear Larz:

I would like to thank all who shared in Sean Patrick Deegan's brief life. He was so much fun (and what a sunny, crinkly smile). We give thanks to so many dear, dear friends who came and sorrowed for him, and for all of us - it was overwhelming!

From Joan, his loving mother, Joey his devoted father, his brothers, Joe III and Trevor - our sincerest unending gratitude for all the loving and strong support from friends, when support was needed most. How touching to our entire family who try to make each day important and loving to one another and everybody.

Our gratitude and love to all
Nana (Marie) Malone

McCoy was wrong

Dear Larz:

I am responding to Mr. Rizzo's letter in last week's paper. As most people know, Mr. Rizzo is along time supporter of Mike McCoy. Mr. Rizzo wanted to know why Gerry Duggan didn't respond to Mike McCoy's childish and unprofessional outburst at a previous Selectmen's meeting. Anyone with common sense knows the answer. Gerry Duggan has too much respect for the Board of Selectmen and the people to waste time at a meeting responding to Mike McCoy's lies and innuendoes.

Instead of physical assault on another Selectman like he did previously, Mike McCoy is now turning to verbal assault and character assassination of another Selectman. Some people never change!

Mike McCoy is supporting perennial candidate Tom Siracusa. Judging by his first ad last week, it looks like Tom Siracusa is going to wallow in the mud with Mike McCoy.

The bottom line here is honesty and integrity. I like most people in town will take Gerry Duggan over Mike McCoy any day.

Debbie Gigante,
Mozart Avenue

Look to the big picture

Dear Larz:

Tewksbury voters have an opportunity on April 1 to vote for a positive change in the way we educate our children. This past year has been a hard one. Our town received a lot of bad press statewide. A preventable strike disrupted the lives of all school children and working parents. February vacation plans were set aside. SAT and MEAP test results were below those of surrounding communities. Parents increased sending their children to private schools. Although all candidates for School Committee agree they are in the race because they want the best for our children, this year in particular, dedication to kids is not enough.

Specifically, a candidate must be able to oversee a $19 plus million enterprise funded with your tax money. This is not easy to do - well. Management skills and experience in education are a must. If School Committee members didn't have to make hard choices, the popularity that got them elected would carry them through their term. However, this is no longer the case.

The big picture demands that voters move beyond the politics of special interest groups to function effectively and that the School Committee share a common vision for educational success with the community if Tewksbury is to maintain control of its schools. Under Education Reform, if the performance of students and teachers continues on a downward slide, the local control we prize so highly is in great danger of being taken from us. If we can't improve on our town, the law requires that the Department of Education must stop in and do it for us. None of us want this. That is why it is so important that we demand performance and accountability from those who administer our school system.

Don't get me wrong, there's also a lot going right with the town. A new library is coming. The Tewksbury Ice Arena Authority plans a new skating rink on Livingston Street. I look forward to both. They will add greatly to community resources, especially for students.

However, the bottom line is: we need to make our school system competitive again if we are to be all we can be as a town. If businesses are to stay here, if we are to maintain real estate values and keep the independence we value to run our schools as we feel best - each of us must vote and participate in the democratic process by which we select our leaders. Together we can bring Tewksbury Pride back to the classroom when we get out to vote on April 1!

TOM SIRACUSA BELIEVES THAT:

"The Burden of Taxes are on every Homeowner's Shoulder."

Selectman Duggan voted consistently for residential tax increases and has catered to the Industrial and Business Community.

(Town Crier Dec. 17, 1992:)

The average homeowner will see an $80.00 increase in their tax bills for FY 1993.

(Town Crier Nov. 24, 1993:)

Wilmington residents can expect to pay an additional $103.00 in residential property taxes for FY 94.

(Town Crier Nov. 30, 1994:)

Wilmington Homeowners can expect an average residential tax raise of $83.00 for FY 1995.

(Town Crier Nov. 30, 1994:)

Gerry Duggan warned that raising the Industrial tax rate too high could drive out business.

Selectman Duggan never warned that raising the Residential tax rate too high could drive out Wilmington residents.

Selectman Duggan, voting for higher residential taxes and sponsoring a needless water and sewer investigation squandering thousands of tax dollars are not the actions of an effective Selectman.

TOM SIRACUSA will work for the Best Interests of Wilmington residents and will work to reduce the residential tax burden.

(Lowell Sun Apr. 17, 1992) Editor's Comment:

"Tom Siracusa has worked on the Housing Authority to develop creative solutions to the Town's housing needs. His training as an auditor of government contracts will be an asset to the residents of Wilmington in the upcoming lean budget years."

Wilmington board watch

• Board of Selectmen meets on the 2nd and 4th Monday each month at 7:00 p.m., Town Hall Room 9. Next meeting: Monday, April 10 at 7:00 p.m. The board voted to hold its second April meeting on Tuesday, April 18, between Annual Town Election (April 15) and Annual Town Meeting (April 22), in order to welcome any new board members and to handle any pre-Town Meeting needs.

Also at its last meeting, the board welcomed among its appointments Robert DiPalma and Joseph DeRosa to commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the Wilmington Community Fund; the board presented DiPalma and DeRosa with a certificate honoring the Fund's work and was in turn presented with a plaque from the community fund; the board then voted to proclaim the month of April Wilmington Community Fund Month ... Frederick W. Shaw, Jr., of the Aleppo Temple and Bernie Paquin of Dana Parkins for an informational presentation on an 900 space parking increase at the Shriner's hall ... Library Director Sarah Rueter and Christina Stewart of the Wilmington Memorial Library Long Range Planning Committee ... and heard a review of the FY-96 budget from Town Manager Michael Cairn.

During appointments, the board met in executive session to discuss the signing of a contract between the town and Local 318 of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers, emerging 10 minutes later and doing just that (see story, page 1) ... The board also voted (unanimously) to sign a release deed for the sale of town-owned land on Commonwealth and Revere avenues ... Voted to grant the recreation commission use of the Town Common for its Annual Easter Egg Hunt (April 8) and for the summer concert series (July 12, 19 and 26 and August 2) ... Voted to grant the Wilmington Garden Club use of the common for its annual plant sale, to be held May 13 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. ... And voted to authorize two Chapter 90 reimbursement requests for Roosevelt Road, Taft Road, Clark Street and Railroad Avenue ($59,435.11) and for Dorchester Avenue, West Street, Belmont Avenue, Federal Street, Marie Drive, Sheridan Road, Chapman Avenue, Nichols Street and Middlesex Avenue, from the common to Route 38 (a final reimbursement request of $247,068.47).

• The Planning Board meets on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday each month at 7:30 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 4. Prior to the board's last meeting, held March 21, a well attended public hearing was held in the Town Hall Auditorium to discuss zoning articles for Annual Town Meeting. At their regular meeting, the board voted on whether or not to recommend approval of various zoning articles to Annual Town Meeting.

• Board of Assessors meets on the 2nd Thursday each month, at 9:00 a.m. in Town Hall Room 2. Next meeting: Thursday, April 13.

• Committee of Citizens with Disability meets on the 1st Thursday of each month, at 7:00 p.m., Town Hall Room 4. Next meeting: Thursday, April 6.

• Finance Committee meets on the second Tuesday each month at 7:00 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9. Next meeting: Tues., April 11. The FinCom last week released its budget recommendations for Annual Town Meeting to Cairn.

• The Recreation Department holds meetings on the 1st Thursday each month at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Hall Recreation Office. Next meeting: Thursday, April 6. The department carries an open agenda for its monthly meetings, director Ron Swasey said.

• The Elder Affairs Commission meets on the third Tuesday each month at 1:30 at the Buzzell Senior Center. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 18.

• Board of Library Trustees meets on the third Tuesday of each month except July and August at 7:30 p.m. in the Bicentennial Room of the Memorial Library. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 18.

• Board of Registrars meets on the 2nd Monday of each month from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. in Town Hall Room 12. Next meeting: Monday, April 10. Extra voter registration for Annual Town Election and Town Meeting is being held from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

• By-Law Study Committee meets on the 1st Tuesday each month. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 4 at 7:00 p.m., Town Hall Room 12.

• Wilmington Housing Partnership meets on the 2nd Thursday each month at 7:30 p.m. in Room 9 of the Town Hall. Next meeting: Thursday, April 13. At their last meeting, March 9, the partnership offered project updates and gave a review of town-owned land parcels petitioned for disposition.

• The Historical Commission meets on the 2nd Monday each month at 7:30 p.m. in Room 4 of the Town Hall. Next meeting: Monday, April 10. At its March 13 meeting, the commission awarded plaques to residents Velma Emery and Betty Bigwood, both of Chestnut Street, designating their homes as two of the oldest in town. The commission is currently, among other things, focused on finding a tenant and/or funds to repair the roof of the old West School on Shawsheen Avenue. Jimmy Carter's Habitat for Humanity organization has shown an interest; anticipated costs of the repair are $6,000. The commission has an article for town meeting designed to solicit proposals for the use of the school.

• Board of Appeals meets on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday each month at 7:00 p.m. in Town Hall Room 4. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 11.

• Wilmington Housing Authority meets on the first Tuesday each month at 12:30 p.m. at 41 Deming Way in the Community Hall or Deming Way Extension Hall. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 4.

• Conservation Commission meets on the 1st and 3rd Wednesday each month in Town Hall Room 9 at 7:00 p.m. Next meeting: Wednesday, April 5. For their last meeting, March 15, the commission scheduled public hearings for notices of intent for parcels on Stonehedge Drive (Universe Construction), for a parcel of land on Chapman Avenue, and for Mather Street, Walnut Street and Poplar Street (Mary Nelson), and to receive a request for an amendment to an order of conditions for Shawsheen River Estates.... Held a public meeting to hear a request for a determination of applicability for a Fall Street parcel by David Sugrue.... Continued public hearings to receive notices of intent for a parcel of land on Mystic Avenue (Somerset Estates) by Mark Lopez and for a parcel on Industrial Way by Analog Devices; and to receive a request for a determination of applicability for various parcels within Buckingham Estates by Thomas Realty Trust.

• Access is Mandatory meets every Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus Hall. Next meeting: Tuesday, April 4.

• The Wilmington School Committee last met Wednesday, March 22 at 7:00 in Town Hall Room 9. At that time, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Geraldine O'Donnell offered budget update. The budget was presented to the FinCom March 14 with few problems perceived by either committee; O'Donnell expressed concern over budgetary shortcomings in the areas of transportation and technology; O'Donnell said she told the FinCom that "this was not the budget of need but we would try to make it meet our needs for yet another year." The committee also voted (unanimously) to adopt a three-year academic calendar that would, among other things, begin the next school year Aug. 25, with conclusion, should there be no snow days, on June 9. Next meeting: Wednesday, April 12.

• The Wilmington School Subcommittee on Policy/PACs was scheduled to meet Wednesday, March 29 at 6:30 p.m. at the Roman House.

• A School Committee Public Budget Meeting will be held Wednesday, April 12 at 6:30 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9.

• The Recycling Advisory Committee meets on the 2nd Thursday each month at 6:30 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9.

• The Board of Water and Sewer Commissioners is scheduled to meet Thursday, April 6 at 6:00 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9.

European travelers to undertake another voyage

A group of Wilmington students met Wednesday evening to decide where to take their "European Vacation" this year. Following last year's wildly successful trip through Italy, England and France, the group voted to do Germany, Switzerland, Austria and Italy in summer, 1995.

Trip leader Bill Peabody, a teacher at the West Intermediate School, applauds the choice of this 10 day tour: "This is one of EF Tour's best offerings, taking a 10 day excursion through some of the most historically and culturally significant cities in Europe, Munich, Innsbruck, Venice, Lucerne, and Heidelberg to name a few."

The group leaves July 17 and returns on the 27th and there is still space available. The cost for a student is $1220 including all transportation, lodging and two meals a day; the cost for adults is just $1390. The payment deadline is April 18. Trip leader Frank

Birmingham, teacher at the North Intermediate School, urges all parents to consider the program: "Last year's participants are still talking about the trip...what better way to make learning fun? Exposure to a global culture is what will make children competitive in tomorrow's world!"

Information about this opportunity can be obtained from Frank Birmingham, 658-6321 or Bill Peabody, 603-362-4003.

The Golf Clubhouse
"Custom Golf Clubs at Reasonable Prices"
 677 Main St., Wilmington, MA
 (508) 988-0771

Why does anyone need custom golf clubs? "Well fitted golf clubs give a person confidence. That makes them a better golfer," says Dave Trane, owner of The Golf Clubhouse. "It isn't necessarily your swing that causes you problems, it could be ill-fitting clubs!"

Dave should know. He builds over 300 sets of custom clubs per year. Unlike clubs that are bought off the shelf, (which are built to fit a "standard-sized" person), Dave adjusts the, angle, weight, grip, shaft diameter, and flex of each club to suit a specific customer.

Once you've decided to buy a set of custom clubs, you'll need to be fitted. Dave will put you on a swing analyzer, then feed the information into a computer program that recommends clubs that play in your range (plus a little room for improvement!). In 7-10 days, your set of matched and balanced clubs are ready. The cost? For irons: $259-$289; for a full set: $459-$500. Custom clubs... basically identical to the major brands... at about half the price!

The Golf Clubhouse, at 677 Main St., Wilmington, is open Mon-Fri: 8:00 am - 5:00 pm; and Sat: 9:00 am - 1:00 pm. In addition to custom clubs, they repair all makes, and also carry a full line of darts and accessories.

You don't have to leave Wilmington for quality seafood, chicken, steaks, salads, pasta, pizza, subs, and more! Just go to Mancini's... where the food is great, but the meals aren't expensive!

"Try us... you'll be back," says owner, Jim Meehan. Extra time and effort is the reason why. At Mancini's, they take time to make good food - even making their own tartar sauce, house dressing, and chicken, veal, & eggplant parmesan. Why? Because homemade is better than pre-made.

Visit Mancini's dining room for lunch (11am-3pm) and enjoy one of their 1/2-Sub Sandwiches - served with french fries or cole slaw, and soup or chili - all for only $3.99. Or, try one of their luncheon specials... most priced under $5.00

Mancini's proud owners... Jim and Willa Meehan

For dinner, choose from a selection of appetizers, entrees, and delicious desserts. They also have a liquor license, and a children's menu.

"Keno" is coming to Mancini's. They'll be one of the first - watch for an announcement. For now, they are a Lottery Agent and have an "Instant Action" lottery ticket machine.

Mancini's is open daily, 10am to 10pm, and Friday until 11pm. They accept Master Card and Visa on orders of $10.00 or more. They have a full Take-Out Menu, and free delivery within a 4-mile radius. And remember, according to Jim, "If you can't find it here, you're not hungry!"

Six students' photos chosen for exhibit

Six of Suzette Hall Durso's photography students from Wilmington High School had work chosen to be put on exhibit at the Fourth Annual New England High School exhibition and Scholarship Competition at White Pines College in Chester, N.H. The six students are Brian Crowley, Todd Konieczka, Denise Langone, Kerri Whitney, Christin Connors and Sue Hall. Brian Crowley received one of the 25 honorable mentions that were awarded. Four hundred photographs from high schools all over New England were submitted and only 163 pieces were chosen to be put on display. Works were selected by a jury of accomplished photographers and instructors.

Four different photography classes are offered at Wilmington High School, all are taught by Mrs. Durso. The curriculum includes among other things black and white developing and printing. "I teach my students different techniques such as hand coloring, toning and photomontage so that they have tools to help better express themselves through photography," Mrs. Durso explains.

Brian, a senior, has taken all four levels of photography offered at Wilmington High School. In his winning photograph he combined his artistic skills with his technical skills. Brian did a photomontage that he hand painted using multiple images of himself looking at his own artwork as well as the works of the Masters in a Museum setting. Next year Brian will be a Fine Arts student at the University of Massachusetts in Dartmouth.

Todd's photograph is a photomontage as well, where he combines the images of an oversized clock floating in the sky. This surrealistic photograph depicts Todd's view of the future. Todd is a freshman and took photography with Dan Spriggs at his junior high school.

Denise's photograph is of a good friend of hers, Roy Dudley. "We spent a whole afternoon taking pictures around my house," Denise explains. "I tried to take pictures that were out of the ordinary and obviously different." Denise plans to be an art major in college next year.

Chris' eight by ten photograph of her girlfriends, Daniele Rinaldi. Chris said that she has known since was a little girl that she wanted to become a photographer and hopes to go to photography school after she graduates.

Sue and Kerri's photographs were from Mrs. Durso's shadow of reflection assignment. Kerri's photograph is of her friend's face reflected in a mirror surrounded by a lot of dark shadows where Sue's photograph is a closeup of a silver spoon and its reflections. She enjoys photography because "It is a way for me to show my personality through pictures."

Wilmington

The Lowell Social Security Office announced that people who were eligible for old age benefits; survivors' benefits, could now call the Lowell office and take care of most of their business by phone.

Bill Hooper of Marcus Road was elected chairman of the planning board and Mort Grant of Concord Street was elected secretary.

Board of Appeals members Peter Enos, Frank Santos, Chairman Bob Jennings and clerk Kay Scanlon, were pictured during their first meeting to be held in "the town hall annex." The building, built in 1833 had been used as a school and library and as the "annex" housed the building inspector and the board of health.

Mobility Assistance Program

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts will soon be accepting applications for the Mobility Assistance Program which is administered by the Executive Office of Transportation and Construction. The Mobility Assistance Program provides capital grants to improve transportation in Massachusetts for individuals who are elderly or who have disabilities.

Last year $2,102,080 in federal and state funds was awarded under the program.

Funding under the Mobility Assistance Program is targeted at meeting the special transportation needs of elderly and disabled persons for whom existing public and/or private mass transportation is unavailable, insufficient, or inappropriate. Priority is given to agencies that coordinate transportation services with other agencies and that serve both elderly and individuals with disabilities.

The grants fund 80 percent of the purchase price of vehicles and related equipment. All vehicles are lift equipped. Some are 8-10 passenger vans; some are 16-22 passenger minibuses. Funding is also provided for mobile communications and computer support equipment.

Private non-profit and public agencies are encouraged to apply. For further information contact:

Bits & pieces

Birthdays

April 3 will mark the special day of Tali Sweeney of Leighton Road, Tewksbury, Timmy Shiner of Independence Avenue, James Little of Park Street, Wilmington, Luke and Matthew Gennetti of Forest Street and Cosmo Nigrelli of Dorothy Avenue.

Although she's been claiming the day longer, Helen Blake of Clark Street, Wilmington will have to share her April 5 birthday with Janet Reinhart of Middlesex Avenue.

Danny Stygles of Hathaway Road, Wilmington, seems to have his April 6 birthday all to himself.

April 7 will mark the special day of Theresa Michaud of Woburn Street, Wilmington, James Little of Park Street, Gail Hamilton of Euclid Road, Tewksbury and Kirt and Keith Ronan of Tanglewood Avenue.

Heather Fullerton of Jones Avenue, Wilmington will be listening to the strains of "Happy Birthday" on April 8 and will share greetings with Mark Otis of River Street, Danny and Brian Godin of Linda Road, Bob Woods of Adams Street and Nancy Stygles of Hathaway Road.

Anniversary

Barbara and Ken Plummer of Edwards Road, Wilmington will mark their 40th wedding anniversary on April 3.

MetLife

MetLife Outdoors and Audubon Ark will host an "Earthkeepers" workshop Saturday, April 8 from 10 to 11 a.m. at Metropolitan Technology Park, Tewksbury. This program is part of the annual MetLife Outdoors series of environmental education programs sponsored by MetLife.

Call 617-437-1508 for more information.

Oops!

The anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Anderson of Clever Lane, Tewksbury, was listed incorrectly last week - the Andersons observed their 12th anniversary on April 1, not their 15th as reported.

Dr. Farello is 88

Dr. Elene Farello, an instructor within the Wilmington School system for over 30 years was the guest of honor at a gala party held in her home, in Reading Sunday, March 19. The event marked her 88th birthday.

Colorful balloons beckoned guests to the correct doorway and floated gracefully around the beautifully decorated birthday cake, supplied by everybody's favorite cakemaker, Irene Brennan, also a guest at the affair.

Neighbors, friends and former students were on hand to join in the festivities and many fine gifts were graciously accepted by the guest of honor.

A seventh grade math teacher at the Buzzell School in 1939, Miss Elene Farello advanced over the years and retired in the early 1970s as Dr. Elene Farello, head of the WHS Science Department.

The close friend who planned the occasion, hope's to conduct a second, such event, in Wilmington, two years from now when Dr. Farello reaches 90. She's healthy, hearty and completely "with it"...Watch for that 90th.

PAC fashion show

Thursday, April 27, Wilmington High School PAC will conduct its annual fashion show at WHS. This year's theme is "Bon Voyage, '95." All proceeds will go directly to scholarships for seniors.

Wilmington library notes

National Library Week

"Libraries Change Lives" is the theme of the American Library Association's celebration of National Library Week 1995, the week of April 9-15. Wilmington Memorial Library's salute to National Library Week will include:

User survey

Beginning Monday, April 3 and continuing through Saturday, April 15, patrons coming into the library will be asked to fill out a brief questionnaire about how they use the library in order to help the trustee's Long Range Planning Committee establish community goals for public library services in the future.

In order to reach as many people in the community as possible, another and different survey will be sent out with the town's water bills later in the month. Residents will be asked to return completed questionnaires either to the town manager's office at the town hall, or to the library. It is hoped that as many people as possible will take the time to let the committee know their feelings about the services, actual and possible, of their public library.

Bookends

A newly formed book discussion group sponsored by the library, calling itself "Bookends" will meet monthly on Thursday evenings in the library's Conference Room. The first meeting will be Thursday evening, April 13 at 7 p.m. The group is open to all interested patrons. Anyone interested in learning more about it is urged to attend the meeting Thursday, April 13, or to call the library at 658-2967.

Circus passes

The Aleppo Temple has once again generously donated 30 complimentary passes to the Shriners' Circus May 8-14. Children using the library during National Library Week (April 9-15) can participate in a drawing for a free ticket. Names will be drawn and winners notified during the week of April 17.

New non-fiction

All The Days and Nights by William Maxwell; The Amy Vanderbilt Complete Book of Etiquette: Entirely Rewritten and Updated by Nancy Tuckerman and Nancy Dunnan; For the President's Eyes Only: Secret Intelligence and the American Presidency from Washington to Bush by Christopher Andrew.

Helping Yourself Help Others: A Book for Caregivers by Rosalynn Carter; The Hollow Years: France in the 1930's by Eugene Weber; Night: Night Life, Night Language, Sleep and Dreams by A. Alvarez; The Revolt of the Elites and the Betrayal of Democracy by Christopher Lasch.

New electronic equipment

The main floor now has three public access terminals with color screens, one of which is wheelchair accessible. Through the MVLC, the library has arranged for the free loan of a CD-Rom station which is located next to the new reader/printer. This borrowed equipment is able to access and print out periodical articles and/or abstracts from nearly 500 different magazines. The library will have the use of this equipment and the EBSCO periodical database on disk for six months. It is expected that after July 1 the library will have access through the public terminals to an even wider range of periodical titles.

Library card covers

The library has a fresh supply of blue library card cases which are supplied by MassBank. If a well used and worn case needs replacement ask at either circulation desk. The library's telephone number and hours are conveniently printed on the back of the case. Reminder: if a library card has been lost the replacement cost is only $1. If one has changed address, telephone number of name, please let the library know.

Seven day loans

Patrons are overwhelmingly pleased about the new seven day loan period because they realize that books for which they are waiting a turn will be available sooner. This loan period does not apply to all new books, but is used for books which are "in demand." Sometimes, because of various reasons, books which are not currently best sellers, will have a long waiting list. A recent run on new books on Florida and the Caribbean is a perfect example of a seasonal demand. Although they may not be considered best sellers, people are waiting for them, so it makes sense to place them on a temporary seven day loan.

On April 1st ELECT RUTH PERRIN TEWKSBURY SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To The Voters of Tewksbury

Dear Friends:

It is with great pleasure that I endorse the candidacy of Ruth Perrin for the Tewksbury School Committee.

Her work and dedication on behalf of foster children and her commitment over the years to the young people in our school system make Ruth an excellent choice for this most sensitive position.

She is committed toward making sure each student receives a quality education and that the hard earned dollars of our taxpayers are not wasted.

On Saturday, April 1st, please consider Ruth Perrin for this most important position, and I know she will represent you with integrity.

Representative Jim Miceli

My Goal if elected to the School Committee would be to bring much needed unity to our school system. I have sent five children through the Tewksbury School System and have seen it at its best. I would like to bring back that standard of excellence to our school system.

- Resident of Tewksbury for 26 years
- Married 37 years, five children
- Foster Parent for 31 years
- Member of Patriotic Committee
- President of Tewksbury Basketball Boosters
- Tewksbury Youth Football Cheerleading Director for 11 years
- Tewksbury High School Varsity Basketball Cheerleading Coach

Stone's in the Garden

by Jackie Leszczak-Stone
My first tomato seedlings have sprouted. They were planted indoors just seven days ago and their first (embryonic) leaves are now just opening. The peppers, lettuce, onions and salvias will soon follow. These infant plants need tender loving care and I will be checking them daily during the next seven weeks for water, over watering and fungus. Seedlings do not require fertilizer at this early stage. They feed on the proteins in the seed and from the photosynthesis in their tiny leaves. We will fertilize them after the first or second set of true (mature) leaves appear. Even then it will be a weak fertilizer "tea" made from steeping compost in a jar of water. During this next week I will be planting more lettuce indoors as well as some late perennials (that I didn't get to earlier).

Our local nurseries are getting their summer stock of shrubs, perennials and garden supplies. New England plant fanatics are fortunate to have so many nurseries, greenhouses and specialty growers nearby. Local retailers carry a wide range of annual bedding plants, shrubs and nursery stock, and perennials. They can supply more than the average home gardener can use.

My own garden shopping habits are diverse and bordering on compulsive. I cannot pass a nursery without stopping for a quick peek. Nor can I pass up a garden catalogue that has some tempting item featured on the cover. I regularly shop for plants at both nurseries and through the mail. But the one truism about purchasing plants is... "You get what you pay for."

When you shop for shrubs or perennials at a local nursery, you can see the item and inspect for disease or stress. You select the size of plant based on your patience and your pocketbook. You can usually be confident that the retailer will stand behind the item, for at least one growing season. Plants from area nurseries are by far the best bargain if you want instant gratification.

When purchasing plants through direct mail catalogues however, your expectations may not be so easily met. Personal experience has confirmed that catalogues using paintings and sketches to present their wares may ship healthy, but small, immature plants. The patient gardener can wait for the one to two years growth needed to establish such plants.

I rely on a few catalogs for quality, information and variety. The White Flower Farm Catalogue (Litchfield, Ct., 203-496-9600) is a reliable guide for New England gardeners and one of the most educational catalogues available. The catalog from Wayside Gardens (1-800-457-9712) carries plants suitable to all regions of the country, but their selection and information is excellent. I have never been disappointed, although the plants purchased from these sources are often smaller than those purchased locally.

My collection (and understanding) of rhododendrons has grown thanks to the detailed lists in the catalogues from Greer Gardens (Eugene, Or. 503-686-8266) and Roselyn Farms (Dix Hills, N.Y.). Although their catalogues have few pictures, these retailers offer an overwhelming variety of trees and shrubs, at reasonable prices.

Gardeners are patient people. They know that, planted in the proper place, even the smallest plant will grow. And they continually seek new and unique varieties to add to their collection. By the way, the best and most economical place to shop for new plants is...the garden of a friend.

Wilmington Fire Chief Dan Stewart and fire fighter Rick MacClellan (rear) survey the damage to the Great Neck Drive home struck by a fire originating in the clothes dryer. No one was hurt and the fire was contained by the WFD to a single room of the house (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

Dryer fire smokes out family

by Jeff Nazzaro

A fire that started accidentally in a clothes dryer caused moderate damage to a Great Neck Drive home, but was contained to a single room. No one was hurt as a result of the fire.

Wilmington Fire Department personnel responded at 4:22 p.m. Tuesday to find smoke pouring from the garage at 5 Great Neck Dr. and flames visible at the back of the house, according to Fire Chief Daniel Stewart.

"The room was heavily charged with smoke upon arrival," Stewart said.

But a quick response and fast action confined the fire to the room of origin - the laundry room of the basement - as Lt. Joe McMahon, of the WFD, advanced the attack line and extinguished the fire. North Reading fire officials assisted at the scene and Tewksbury firefighters covered the Wilmington station.

Stewart said the fire did extensive damage to basement plumbing, including the rupturing of water pipes, which actually helped control the blaze. Heat from the fire melted the solder off the pipe and pressurized the water, which burst through. Stewart said there was also heavy smoke damage to the room.

Wilmington firefighters maintained a presence on scene until approximately 7:15 p.m. to assist with clean-up activity and visits from the building and wiring inspectors.

The Red Cross relocated the entire family to a hotel for last night.

Stewart said the dryer overheated and caught fire, with the flames spreading to nearby combustibles.

He said his department has responded to several such fires in recent years. Most "dryer fires" are caused by electrical problems, overloaded appliances, or clogged vent hoses, Stewart said.

It has not been determined why the Great Neck Drive dryer overheated, but Stewart encouraged all Wilmington homeowners to check dryer lint traps and hoses for excess material or clogs.

Tips to building a better bird house

A city garden, a hanging plant on your front porch, or a rural backyard - these are all places where you may find Massachusetts birds nesting this spring. To attract birds looking for nest sites, you can either build a nest box or birdhouse or provide birds with materials they need to build a nest nearby.

Before constructing a nest box, look in your yard and determine what types of birds your box might attract. If you plan to put the box in a large open area, it may appeal to bluebirds or tree swallows. Placed at the edge of the woods, it could draw house wrens. Chickadees, titmice, and flickers like a box in or on the edge of the woods, preferably on a tree trunk, and they may occasionally also come to a natural looking box, even in a city. Robins may nest on a platform or bracket, and house finches find ideal nest sites in hanging plants in protected spots, such as an outdoor porch.

For any bird, an attractive nest site is anywhere where there is suitable food and protection. Fruit bearing plants and bird feeders typically offer food, shelter, and protection. Even if you don't put up a birdhouse, you can still help birds build their nests in other ways. By leaving bits of string, yarn, lint from the dryer, or thread outside in your yard, you can watch birds gathering it for nesting material.

Each bird species looks for certain characteristics in its nest site. It's important not to simply build a generic birdhouse, but to build one designed to attract a particular type of bird. Massachusetts Audubon distributes information on materials and specific dimensions for size, diameter, and placement of entrance hole and for the height and location of the boxes for a variety of species.

Birdhouses offer nest sites for native, cavity-nesting birds such as the eastern bluebird, tree swallow, house wren, black capped chickadee, American kestrel, purple martin, eastern screech owl and wood duck. Other native birds that occasionally move in to best boxes include the tufted titmouse, white breasted nuthatch, downy woodpecker, great crested flycatcher and northern flicker.

Non-active species such as house sparrows and European starlings are also very apt to take up residence in bird boxes unless you take specific measures to discourage them. Unfortunately, these aggressive species often displace native cavity nesting species.

Building the birdhouse is only half the work needed to assure that your site is attractive. Once you hang your box, monitor the activities around it. Wasps will sometimes move in before the birds do and will need to be discouraged. Once a nesting of birds has occurred and the young have fledged, the house should be thoroughly cleaned out and the old nesting material removed. Some species may attempt a second nesting in the same box if you clean out the box immediately.

Raccoons and opossums may attempt to prey on the contents of nest boxes. Putting bluebird or swallow boxes on metal pipes or poles will make it more difficult for raccoons to climb to them. To keep other nest predators such as blue jays and grackles from sitting outside and reaching in for the eggs, do not put wooden perch below the nest hole, but simply scratch the wood above and below the hole inside and outside with a nail or knife. This will assure that the parent birds or nestlings have a roughened surface to cling to while feeding.

By following these simple guidelines, and if your area provides the right habitat, you should succeed in attracting a bird to nest in a single, well placed box. With the exception of purple martins, few birds will tolerate close neighbors during the breeding season. Most birds are territorial and aggressive and will not breed with other birds nesting nearby.

The Mass. Audubon Shop in Lincoln is sponsoring a free nest box building workshop Saturday, April 15, at 10:30 a.m. No preregistration is required for the program, which will be held at the Drumlin Farm Nature Center. For more information, call 617-259-9661. Pleasant Valley Wildlife Sanctuary in Lenox will hold a bluebird nest box program on April 22. Pre-registration is required; call 413-637-0320.

For specific instructions on dimensions, size, and placement of bird houses for a variety of Mass species, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Information Services, Mass. Audubon Society, South Great Road, Lincoln, MA 01773.

NOBODY'S FRIEND

My name is gossip. I have no respect for justice.

I maim without killing. I break hearts and ruin lives.

I am cunning and malicious and gather strength with age.

The more I am quoted, the more I am believed.

My victims are helpless. They cannot protect themselves against me.

Because I have no name and no face.

I am nobody's friend.

Once I tarnish a reputation, it is never the same.

I topple governments and wreck marriages.

I ruin careers and cause sleepless nights, heartaches and indigestion

I make innocent people cry in their pillows.

Even my name hisses. I am called gossip. I make headlines and headaches.

Perkins firm acquires Robert Anderson, Inc.

Dana F. Perkins, Inc. has purchased the Robert E. Anderson Engineering and Land Surveying Company of North Reading and will continue to operate it under its original name.

"We will combine our resources and continue the standard of service that the many clients of the Anderson Company have come to expect," said Janet Lougee, President of Dana F. Perkins, Inc.

Robert E. Anderson, Inc. has been doing business at 178 Park Street, No. Reading, since 1950.

Its acquisition is the 16th in the last 40 years by Dana Perkins, a family owned engineering company which has now amassed more than a half million land plans and records throughout Eastern Massachusetts from Southern New Hampshire to Cape Cod.

Founded in 1882, Dana Perkins is one of the oldest engineering firms of its kind in the Commonwealth, and is currently in its fourth generation of family ownership.

Both Dana Perkins, with offices in Tewksbury and Reading, and Robert E. Anderson, Inc. provide services ranging from Residential Subdivision to Commercial and Industrial Site Design. Given their long history, they have worked for some of America's largest corporations and countless of New England's most successful entities. They have designed thousands of miles of roads for developers and municipalities, large septic and sewage treatment plants, conducted land and title insurance surveys and worked on the design of several golf courses in the area, making them one of New England's leaders in engineering and surveying services.

Summer camp sign-up for Girl Scouts

Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council has a summer camping program planned that is chock full of fun and excitement. Girl Scout camp is unique because it helps girls to build self esteem, develop values, develop full individual potential, relate to others, and contribute to society. Six day camps and one resident camp are ready to offer an unforgettable summer experience for all girls (Girl Scout or non-scout) entering grades one through 12 in the fall of 1995.

Day camp is a daily adventure in the out of doors, geared not only to first time campers but to experienced campers who want to improve and expand their camping skills. Day camp offers one or two week sessions, depending on the particular camp, and is offered Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in addition to transportation time. Bus transportation is available to and from day camp - from specified towns.

The day camp program is offered at six locations, Camp Pennacook in Rowley, Camp Pine Point in Groton, Camp Machagamee in Pelham, Camp Paradise in Beverly, Camp Maude Eaton (Merrymeeting) in Andover and the Lynn Summer Adventure in Lynn. Two of these day camps - Camp Pine Point and the Lynn Summer Adventure are new this year, providing more accessible camping program to all girls in the council community. We've additionally added a day camp adjacent to Camp Runels in Pelham - Camp Machagamee.

For girls who want the added adventure of the overnight experience, a resident program is offered at Camp Runels in Pelham. Girls will have the opportunity to plan, carry out and evaluate their own activities in group living situations. Girls may choose between general camp activities or specialty activities including sailing, canoeing, backpacking, biking, arts, sports and more.

Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council, Inc. is committed to providing safe, educational opportunities for girls in the out of doors and all our camps are managed by caring, well trained and experienced staff. All camps meet state and local health codes for Girl Scout standards.

The best part of Girl Scout camp is the fun the girls will have. Girls will make new friends and memories in a camp program that has had a positive effect on generations of girls. For further details on summer camp programs or to receive a camp brochure, please contact the Girl Scout Service Center at 508-689-8015 or 508-745-1404.

Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council, Inc. is a United Way agency, serving more than 15,000 members throughout northeastern Mass. and southern N.H.

Jury trials in Woburn

The Woburn District Court will have jury trials, beginning on May 22, according to the Woburn editor of the Times Chronicle. An announcement was made March 21 by Frederick V. Gilgun, first justice of the Woburn Court.

Gilgun was reported to say that it is anticipated that the court will require one panel of jurors for 10 calendar days of each court month. The court was constructed and occupied in 1967 with the intent of having jury trials, but that never happened until now.

Persons arrested by Wilmington Police often appear before Woburn Court.

The "Mayor" of Wilmington

George Spanos

by Capt. Neilson
George Spanos, for many years a Wilmington restaurateur, died in 1967. He was a well known resident of Wilmington, a man who had acquired several nick-names, all in friendship.

Born in Salonika, Greece, in 1889, George had first lived in Wilmington about 1912. His home was on Glen Road, near where a path went through the woods to School Street, a path which became known as Drury Lane. The home he built still stands. Various subsequent owners have added to the structure.

It is said that George was a married man, but the wedding did not take place in Wilmington. He did have a small food store, near the foot of School Street, in years before World War II.

Some time before World War II George transferred his business to what had been a hay and grain store, in what is now called Wilmington Square. His restaurant was beside the entrance to the Wilmington railroad station. The building to which he moved had been the property of the Buck Brothers, a North Wilmington store, and was operated by George Buck. George Buck sold his hay and grain out through the back door.

George Spanos lived upstairs, and all day long worked in his restaurant. It was not the only restaurant in Wilmington Square. Arthur Hamilton had one, near the railroad station, which was later transferred across Main Street and had the name of Huntley's Diner.

But, after the time of Pearl Harbor George Spanos, by reason of his locale, and by reason of his friendly attitude to every person who entered his restaurant had a friendship with people who rode to Boston on the B&M RR. Nearly every young man who was clad in Army khaki or Navy blue stopped into George's as he was about to leave for duty.

George began to collect pictures of the persons who left, some female, but mostly male. His sphere included many from Tewksbury, a town without a railroad station.

Those pictures were posted on the wall of the restaurant. At the end of the war there were five large picture frames on that wall. It would take an hour or two to inspect them all.

Someone, unknown to this writer, made the frames. A few frames were devoted to larger pictures, about 25. Many held over a hundred, and some had many more than that.

It wasn't just the boys and girls who were leaving who called on George. Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers called, every time she visited Wilmington.

Those pictures, on the walls of George's Restaurant gave the town good reason for a lot of self respect. The people had nothing but friendship and respect for "his Honor," "The Noble Greek" and "The Mayor of Wilmington."

After the war was over George's Restaurant became the gathering spot for the Wilmington Skating Club, on its annual trips to Boston Garden and the skating races.

Eleven hundred passengers would go into Boston on a Sunday morning, with His Honor being one. They would fill some of the upper rows, in the Boston Garden, as they cheered the Wilmington skaters in the competitions.

And George's voice would be the loudest.

In his later years, after he had stopped working, George promoted the Wilmington High School football team. He "presided" better describes it, and he did it from his wheelchair.

PRODUCT LIABILITY

QUESTION: What businesses should be covered by product liability insurance?

ANSWER: This coverage is available to wholesalers, retailers and manufacturers. It covers liability for injury as a result of the use of or consumption of merchandise that the company distributes or manufactures. One requirement for liability is that the insured must have given up possession of the product that caused the injury.

Both, food products and non-edible merchandise can be involved in product liability coverage. Almost every type of firm has some exposure and the risks can run very, very high. Insurance coverage in this area is vital.

PRODUCT LIABILITY is one of the greatest risks any company can have. Insurance is vital.

BRIGHTER IS BETTER

Sometimes we walk into a home that is basically attractive but seems to lack something that we just can't put our fingers on. Then we realize that the drapes are closed, the windows have a thick layer of dirt, or overgrown shrubbery blocks the sun.

A dark house will not be as appealing to buyers as one that is flooded with sunlight. As a part of your marketing preparation efforts, you should try to maximize the light in your house. Clean windows are a must. Open the drapes whenever the house is being shown. A fresh coat of light paint will also do a lot to brighten up the interior.

If your house has very dark paneling and there is not a lot you can do about it, you can always add additional lamps. Your Realtor may be able to provide some simple, cost-effective ideas to maximize the chances of your home selling for top dollar.

Bill Perkins awarded ALC designation recommendation of the Designation Committee, as a member of a select group of real estate practitioners who has established his expertise and experience in the area of land brokerage.

The nationally recognized ALC designation is awarded to real estate professionals who complete a rigorous schedule of educational courses and institute service requirements. Bill has distinguished himself as a land brokerage specialist in the real estate marketplace. Less than 1,000 Realtors have been awarded the ALC designation since its inception in 1955.

In addition to this award, Mr. Perkins is a Registered Professional Engineer in Massachusetts and New Hampshire and he is a member of the Re/Max 100% Club.

The Realtors Land Institute, a professional organization founded in 1944, has 45 active chapters throughout the United States and a Canadian Chapter. Yearly business meetings and an annual convention held across the country. The Institute's 1,600 members are identified by their experience and knowledge of subdivision development, real estate marketing, foreign investments, urban and investment land, farms and ranches, commercial and development properties and adhere to a strictly enforced Code of Professional Ethics of the National Association of Realtors. For more information contact the Realtors Land Institute at 1-800-441-LAND.

The award, a highly acclaimed achievement in the real estate industry, was announced at the Realtors Land Institute's 1995 Mid-Year Convention, held in conjunction with the National Association of Realtors in Orlando, FL. Mr. Perkins was honored by the RLI board of Governors upon

Marylou Szilagyi joins Winchester Hospital

Winchester Hospital welcomes a new Worksite Wellness Coordinator. Marylou Szilagyi joins the Community Health Institute from Johnson & Johnson Health Management, Inc.

Szilagyi has extensive training in health improvement programs, as well as special event planning. She developed and implemented a health education program for more than 600 employees and coordinated a wellness advisory committee.

Director of the Community Health Institute, Dr. Kathleen Beyerman, said "We're fortunate to have Marylou, she has a proven track record of success." Beyerman also commented that results Szilagyi received from a Johnson & Johnson plan were exemplary. "Participants experienced an 80 percent decrease in cholesterol level after Szilagyi's wellness program," commented Beyerman.

Szilagyi is certified in aerobics, personal training, exercise safety, as well as CPR.

The Tewksbury School Committee requested residents' opinions before deciding whether to rename the Shawsheen School after the late teacher Louise Trahan and Rep. James Miceli and Sen. John D. O'Brien recently hosted members of the Baldwin Neighborhood Girl Scout Troop from the Star and Spindle Girl Scout Council. They visited the state house to celebrate Girl Scouts' 83rd year of scouting. Shown in the photo are: (left to right, rear) Dori Gray, of Wilmington, Sarah Hicks, Dave Hicks, Jeanne Buck and Amanda Hodges of No. Billerica. IN the center row are: Deon Gray, of Wilmington, Gabrielle Haber, of Tewksbury, Elizabeth Hong, of Tewksbury, Heather Watkins of Tewksbury, and Jodi Salvo of Tewksbury. In front are: Leonina Grasso, legislative aide, Kayla Humes, of Wilmington and a member of the Girl Scout Troop, Secretary of State William Galvin and Representative James R. Miceli. The troop was accompanied by chaperones Sarah Hicks, David Hicks, Jeanne Buck, of Tewksbury.

Joan Unger named "Sales person of the month" - again

Joan Unger has been named "Salesperson of the Month" for the third month in a row at Re/Max Hearthstone Realty's Tewksbury office. Joan has held this title since December 1994 through February 1995.

A resident of Tewksbury, Joan has been in real estate for over 15 years. She specializes in all phases of real estate and has been recognized as a certified residential specialist. She has been named in Re/Max 100 percent Club, President's Club, Executive Club and for the last two years in Who's Who in Residential Real Estate in North America! Joan is an active member of the Women's Council of Realtors, the Tewksbury Rotary and the Tewksbury Garden Club, where she has served as past president.

Accomplishments such as these are the result of hard work, perseverance and a commitment to her profession.

Willard Perkins, broker/owner of Re/Max Hearthstone's Tewksbury and Wilmington offices, is quoted as saying, "Once again Joan Unger has proven herself to be a leader in the real estate field in the Merrimack Valley. She is clearly one of the top real estate producers in the area."

Wilmington Arts Center to hold spring concert April 9

A lovely feature of spring 1995 will be a concert at the Arts Center Sunday, April 9 at 2 p.m. The concert, sponsored by the Arts Council will star William Merrill of Wilmington, well known and talented vocalist and Carolyn Stanhope as accompanist on the piano.

During intermission a delightful interlude is promised with songs by the Youth Chorus, now under the direction of Debra D'Entremont. Mr. Merrill's repertoire will include songs of show tunes and those featuring love, faith and hope. Both he and Miss Stanhope are artists of great talent and an afternoon of rich enjoyment is in store.

As in the past this concert is certain to be another standing room only affair. It is funded in part by the Massachusetts Cultural Council as administered by the Wilmington Council for the Arts. There is no admission fee and children are most welcome. The Art Center is on Route 62 (Middlesex Avenue) directly across the street from the Congregational Church.

LWV candidates forum

The League of Women Voters of Wilmington has invited the public to attend the League's Candidates Forum Tuesday, April 4 at 7:30 at the Shawsheen School.

The League, which is a non-partisan organization that promotes the active and informed participation of citizens in government, traditionally sponsors Candidates Forums to provide an opportunity for voters to meet and question candidates for local offices.

This year, there are five candidates vying for three open seats on the Board of Selectmen, three candidates running for three open seats on the School Committee and three unopposed candidates running for the Housing Authority, Redevelopment Authority and Shawsheen Technical School Committee.

The format for the meeting will include opening statements by the candidates. Each candidate will be asked why she/he is running for the office, what the major issues facing that particular board are and how she/he would address those issues. The audience will then have an opportunity to ask verbal or written questions.

The formal segment of the meeting will be followed by an informal time for coffee and conversation with the candidates.

For additional information about the meeting, call 658-5338.

Thursday was the day to take your parents to lunch, if you are a student at the Wildwood School. Joining his daughter Stephanie Gable is dad, Bill. To the right are Lisa and Sarah Hodge, a mother/daughter lunch team.

Wilmington senior topics

Income taxes

Seniors who have not had their income taxes prepared and who did not call the center will be offered an extended time. The preparer will extend the service to Wednesday, April 5. It is necessary to call the Center for an appointment. If no appointments are made, the preparer will not be there.

Easter dinners

Through the generosity of Analog Devices, on Friday, April 7, 100 Easter holiday catered dinners will be delivered to seniors confined to their homes.

A list is being compiled so those who know of a senior confined to their home are urged to call the Center at 657-7595 or 658-2258. Anyone who has a car and would like to drive one of the Analog employees around with the meals is urged to call the center and volunteer. The time involved is approximately two hours.

Spring has arrived!

Spring has arrived, that means looking ahead to the beauty of nature popping up all around. With the blossoming of trees and flowers, and the greening of grass, a great deal of time will be spent outdoors. As beautiful as spring is, it is also a dangerous time for many elders with allergies. A serious allergic reaction can be caused from the blooming of flowers and trees, bee bites and over exposure to the sun, that can cause skin cancer. The spring and summer months are a long awaited enjoyment, but one must be careful.

April a busy month

April will be a busy month. On April 7, the Easter dinners will be delivered to shut-ins; Friday, April 14 is Good Friday; Saturday, 15, Town Election; Sunday, April 16, Easter Sunday; Monday, April 17, April social, a chicken pie dinner at Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks Hall, a stipend of $3 will be required to help defray the cost of the social. Sign-up is in progress at the Senior Center from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Any senior working between those hours can call the director; on Saturday, April 22 the annual town meeting will be held.

Starting Monday, April 3, a volunteer will be at the center to help seniors fill out new Vial of Life forms. At that time seniors will be given, free of charge, a red plastic case to carry all medical information necessary in an emergency with the words "Vile of Life" printed in large white letters. In the event of an accident, fall stroke or heart attack, all the information needed to save a life will be in one's wallet, to be found by an ambulance driver, family member or friend.

It is hoped that all seniors will carry this case in their wallets, with the Vial of Life form, Medicare and Supplement Insurance card, and doctors card. They can be obtained at the Center, free of charge. Police Chief Bobby Stewart and Fire Chief Danny Stewart will be given one of the folders, so they will know where all our medical information will be found.

Sixth graders end season on good note

The Wilmington Sixth Grade Boys Basketball team ended its season on a winning note by defeating Everett at the Billerica Shamrock Tournament as all 12 players scored for the Wildcats.

High scorers for the game were centers Jason Barrett and Mike MacNeil with ten points each. This game was over early as the starting five of Craig Osgood, Dave Rappoli, Gregg LeFave, Mike Mahoney and Mike MacNeil helped the team to an early ten point lead.

Things got only worse for Everett as Wilmington kept up the pressure as the bench added to the blowout. Leading the charge off the bench were Scott Buck, Mike Halas, Jason Barrett, Kyle Hendricks, Willy Kent, Kevin Forgett and Timmy Riley.

Competing in the highly competitive Merrimack Valley league, the boys finished in the upper half of the standings with a record of 9-10. Although the win against Everett was the team's only post season victory, the team played its best basketball in tough losses to Lynnfield, Lawrence Boys Club and Newburyport.

Despite their lack of size, Wilmington became known throughout the league as a hustling, scrappy bunch that never quit and was always in the game. The coaches are particularly proud about the way the boys stuck together and continued to improve as the season progressed.

Leading the team from the point guard position were Kevin Forgett and Timmy Riley. Their abilities to handle the ball and hit the open man was invaluable to the team's success. Playing off guard were Craig Osgood and Dave Rappoli who both contributed several clutch hoops during the season.

Swing men Willy Kent and Mike Mahoney had the unique ability to play tough defense, rebound and score when needed. The forward position was ably manned by Mike Halas, Kyle Hendricks and Greg LeFave. These three consistently out fought and out hustled their taller opponents for that key rebound or basket.

Centers Jason Barrett, Scott Buck and Mike MacNeil more than held their own against the tough Merrimack League competition. Without these "big men," the team would not have been nearly as successful.

The coaches would also like to thank the players' parents whose cooperation helped make this year a lot of fun for everyone.

Mite C's cruise past Marblehead

Wilmington 7 Marblehead 1

The Wilmington Mite C Youth Hockey team returned to Valley League action last Sunday with a solid 7-1 victory over Marblehead.

To the Wilmington faithful, this game was like a walk in the park in comparison to most of Wilmington's other games this season in which 15, that's right 15, games have been decided by one goal or less (ties).

Jaclyn Rideout led all scorers with a "hat trick" and Eric Raposo notched two of his own. Jay Surianello and Warren Fitzpatrick contributed with single strikes. One interesting note is that two of the Wildcat goals were scored while Wilmington was shorthanded.

Surianello initiated the scoring before the game was two minutes old. Jay buried a nice short side shot into the twine from his left wing position. Rideout assisted on the play.

Marblehead answered moments later to lock the contest at one. But this period was to over yet. Warren Fitzpatrick slammed one home as he, Jamie Riopelle and Rideout fought for the puck, like shoppers at a half price sale, in front of the Marblehead net. The period ended with the locals up by one.

Matt David, between the pipes for Wilmington, saw some early action in the second period but the territorial advantage swung in favor of the Cats as they would score three unanswered goals in this period.

Jaclyn Rideout struck first as she broke in on the right wing side and fired a gamma ray wrist shot along the ice and into the back of the net. Eric Raposo followed Jackie's act with two unassisted goals.

Raposo initiated several breakouts turned scoring chances for Wilmington from his defensive position as he rushed the puck out of the Wilmington zone before dishing it off to attacking forwards.

Rideout completed her "hat trick" in the third as the sound of the puck hitting the bottom bar in the back of the net became a familiar sound in the dreary confines of the Cambridge facility.

Jamie Riopelle was robbed in the waning moments of the game s he shot a pill from the slot only to have hit deflected wide by the Marblehead goalie. Jennifer Corcoran continued to sparkle on defense as did Marshall Nevins and Stephen Peterson who had to adjust to the cold temperatures after being in Florida for the past week.

Mike Welch, Donny Heenan (two excellent scoring chances) and Scott Sferrazza made their presence known as they turned in yet another strong effort which was highlighted by their aggressive forechecking.

by James Pote

It's softball season for a few former Wilmington High School players as well as one Tewksbury High School player who will be looking to continue their solid college seasons.

First for the champion Merrimack College team, both Judy O'Connell and Kerri Lyman will be returning to hopefully give the team back to back champion teams.

O'Connell, who was the MVP of the tournament last year, will be back behind the plate where she will be catching both Kerri Lyman and freshman Adrienne Fay.

Lyman and Fay both know all about championships as the former has been on five straight championship teams between Bishop Fenwick and Merrimack, while, the latter has been on two straight at WHS.

Next on the list will be a stop at Plymouth State College where Kathy Madden and Renee Salipante will be looking to help out the Panthers.

Madden a graduate from Shawsheen Technical School from 1991, will be looked upon for a big year as a thirdbaseman/pitcher.

Salipante, a freshman, will be a starting shortstop/secondbaseman for the team this year after a solid career at Tewksbury High School.

Youth Committee sponsors dance

The Glen Road Youth Committee will sponsor a dance at the North Intermediate School April 7 from 7 to 10 p.m. for grades six through eight.

Tickets are $4 each and will be sold at the door. All proceeds will go to benefit the Glen Road Youth Complex.

Volunteers are needed Saturday,

April 1 at 9 a.m. to cut the Little League Baseball diamonds at the Glen Road Field.

Pee Wee C's take two

The Wilmington Pee Wee C Youth Hockey team had just three games this month but they came away with two victories.

The first game took place on the 18th where they took on Cape Ann. In this game Cape Ann scored within 16 seconds into the game, which stunned Wilmington although they did come back to tie the period at 1-1 just two minutes later.

In the second period Wilmington scored first, but later in the period Cape Ann came back to make it a 2-2 game.

The third period could have gone either way as both teams had numerous opportunities, however Cape Ann had one more than Wilmington has they scored with only 45 seconds left in the game and took home the 3-2 win.

Wilmington suffered its second loss of the season as they were yet back to back losses.

Wilmington coming off a two game losing streak took on Marblehead on March 19. In this series Wilmington maintained control throughout the game.

Wilmington's defense held off many of Marblehead's chances to score, as the line of O'Neil, Petroulas and Banda did the scoring for Wilmington. In the first period with 59 seconds left Eric Banda scored from John O'Neil to make it 1-0.

Then in the second period the same combination of Banda and O'Neil strike again to make it 2-0.

The third period is when Marblehead came back to score two of their own goals, but Wilmington battled for a goal by Mike Petroulas to make it 3-2 and again the combination of Banda and O'Neil strike again, this time it was O'Neil with the goal to close the game with a 4-2 win.

Wilmington came back at the end of the week for another game with Marblehead. Wilmington has been practicing hard lately and it showed in this game.

Eric Banda started off for Wilmington with a break away after 46 seconds into the period and scored an unassisted goal. Mike Montalto also managed to get a break away in the same period and he himself scored a goal to make it 2-0.

In the second period Wilmington gave up three goals, but never lost the lead as they also added two more of their own goals, one from Eric Banda his second in the game, assisted by Michael Petroulas, and the other goal came from Michael Petroulas assisted by Billy Haffner and Adam Jervis. At the end of two periods it was Wilmington over Marblehead 4-3.

The third period was extremely intense with Marblehead tying the game early in the period. But with less than four minutes left in the game Wilmington Pee Wee's game it all they had and fired in three more goals, one from Eric Banda for a hat trick; one from Adam Jervis assisted by Robert Garrett, and the final goal by Robert Garrett assisted by Michael Comer. Marblehead did manage to score with 12 seconds left, but ran out of time as Wilmington clinched first place tonight with a score of 7-5.

Wilmington PeeWees have another game scheduled for Saturday, April 1 at Merrimack College at 4 p.m.

Final Four Contest drawing

The Town Crier/Moe Mentoes Final Four Contest which is being sponsored by Miller Light, drawing will be Monday, April third at halftime of the final game of the tournament at Moe Mentoes.

With a lot of upsets, none of the 73 participants who entered the contest, predicted the final four of Oklahoma State, North Carolina, UCLA and Arkansas correctly. Therefore, the next step was to see who had three of the four teams right. And nine participants did.

Those nine participants have been informed. Join in the fun at Moe Mentoes on Monday night to see who walks away with two floor seats at a Boston Celtics game and also dinner for two at Moe Mentoes.

Mite B's take Beverly

Wilmington 6 Beverly 2
The Wilmington Mite B Youth Hockey team played a great two way game against Beverly last Sunday when they came out with a 6-2 win.

It took the Wildcats only 47 seconds to grab the lead on an unassisted goal by Ray Bennett. Beverly came right back to tie the game, but Ray Bennett was on fire and scored his second goal on a nice assist from Dean Smith.

Meanwhile, Jonathan Beverly played great in goal, stopping a break away and then a nice glove save on a sure goal to the far corner.

Wilmington increased its lead and to two goals on a full length rush by Timmy Aldrich. Wilmington does not like leads though, and Beverly closed the gap to one just seconds before the end of the period. The Wildcats were lucky when Beverly closed just after the end of the second period, keeping the lead at one.

The third period was all Wilmington, with Kevin Velardo, Scott Rivers, Timmy Madden and Eddie Lopez playing great defense and in finding the forwards for quick breakouts. Bryant Buck continues to play his best hockey of the season and had a great play in using his skates to keep the puck in the offensive end that resulted in a goal.

The Wildcats, behind Jonathan Berkeley's goal, tending eventually put the game away with three goals in the third period. Zack Wilkins scored on the "NHL shot" to the far corner, Ray Bennett completed his hat trick and Timmy Aldrich assisted by Bryant Buck completed the scoring for the Wildcats.

Youth squad takes home cake

The Tewksbury girls fifth and sixth grade traveling basketball team clinched the division championship with wins over No. Andover and No. Reading this past weekend.

The first game was close all the way with Kaitlyn O'Brien leading the scoring with ten points. Lisa White had four, Amy Von Kahle, Sarah Fitzgerald and Nicole Poirier each had two points with Heather Laffey rounding out the score with one. Karen Whelan, Amy Leboeuf, Brianne Smith and Totti Fruiti Venuti all played great defense. The final score was 24-18.

The final playoff game was a squeaker from the start. Playing without Sarah Fitzgerald and Brianne Smith, the entire team had to make adjustments to win. Trailing from the start the team made a heroic effort in the second half to win 28-25.

The scoring was lead by Jessica Breslin with a game high 17 points while Amy Von Kahle, Amy Leboeuf, Nicole Poirier, Amanda Venuti and Heather Laffey all added two. Lisa White finished the scoring with one point.

The entire team played well with Karen Whelan, Caitlin Thomann and Kaitlyn O'Brien leading the defense.

The team finished the season 14-2 and will play in the Derry, N.H. Tournament next week.

MORTGAGEE'S NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE 12 Jones Avenue Wilmington, MA 01887

By virtue and in execution of the POWER OF SALE contained in a certain MORTGAGE given by George T. Lee and Wendy A. Lee to First Union Mortgage Corporation dated April 30, 1991, and recorded with the Middlesex County (Northern District) Registry of Deeds registered with the District of the Land Court as Document No. 135342 as noted on Certificate of Title No. 29711 of which the undersigned Source One Mortgage Services Corporation is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be SOLD at PUBLIC AUCTION at 10:00 a.m., on April 26, 1995, upon the mortgaged premises: 12 Jones Avenue Wilmington, MA 01887 as described below, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage.

TO WIT: The land in Wilmington, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHEASTERLY by Jones Avenue, fifty (50) feet; SOUTHWESTERLY by Lot 66, eighty-six (86) feet; NORTHWESTERLY by Lots 42 and 41, fifty (50) feet; and NORTHEASTERLY by Lot 69, eighty-six (86) feet. All of said boundaries are determined by the Land Court to be located as shown on Plan 4312A, drawn by J. Lewis Carr, C.E., dated April 1913, as approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed with Certificate of Title 425, and said land is shown as Lots sixty-seven (67) and sixty-eight (68) on said plan. Said premises are subject to easements, restrictions and rights of way of record, if any there be, insofar as the same are now in force and applicable.

TERMS OF SALE: Said premises will be sold and conveyed subject to any and all outstanding municipal or other public taxes, tax titles, assessments, liens or claims in the nature of liens, rights of tenants and parties in possession, and existing encumbrances of record, if any, which take precedence over the said mortgage above described and also to all laws and ordinances including but not limited to, all building and zoning ordinances. The highest bidder shall be required to deposit the amount of $5,000.00 by cash, certified check, bank treasurer's check or bank cashier's check at the time and place of the sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in or within 30 days thereafter at the Law Offices of Elliot S. Topkins, 255 Bear Hill Road, Waltham, MA 02154. Other terms to be announced at the sale.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by George Ekonomou, a/k/a George Ekonomou and Christina Ekonomou a/k/a Christina Ekonomou to Beneficial Mortgage Co. of Massachusetts dated September 7, 1989 and recorded with Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 5005, Page 255, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at Public Auction at 11:00 O'clock A.M. on the 6th day of April, 1995, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

A certain parcel of land situated in Tewksbury, Middlesex County, Massachusetts and being shown as Lot 13 on a plan of land entitled "Definitive Subdivision of Kingswood Park, Tewksbury, Mass., Scale 1 in. = 100 ft. September 18, 1971, Robert P. Morris, R.L.S., Tewksbury, Mass.," which plan is recorded in Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds in Book of Plans 113, Plan 71, and being bounded and described as follows:

NORTHERLY by Barbara D. Lane, as shown on said plan, 150.00 feet; WESTERLY by Lot 9, as shown on said plan, 269.21 feet;

SOUTHERLY by land of Smith and Allen, as shown on said plan, 195.03 feet; EASTERLY by Lot 14, as shown on said plan, 287.94 feet.

Containing 43,560 square feet according to said plan.

For mortgagor's title see deed of Marie A. Diaz to us, dated March 3, 1978 and recorded with Middlesex North Deeds, Book 2292, Page 349.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles and other municipal assessments and liens, if any there be, which take precedence over this mortgage held by the undersigned, and subject to prior liens of other enforceable encumbrances of record, if any, entitled to precedence over this mortgage. The premises will be sold subject to and with the benefit of all easements, restrictions, reservations and conditions of record, if any there be, and subject to any rights of parties in possession, if any, to the extent the same are enforceable and have priority over this mortgage. It shall be the bidder's sole responsibility to ascertain all items described in this paragraph and no representations are made concerning compliance with applicable zoning, building, health or other state and/or municipal regulations, codes or ordinances.

TERMS OF SALE: Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) shall be paid in cash, cashier's or certified check drawn on a Massachusetts bank or trust company at the time and place of sale; the high bidder shall execute a written memorandum of sale containing these and additional terms upon acceptance of the bid; the balance of the bid price shall be paid in cash, cashier's or certified check within thirty (30) days after the date of sale; Deed to be delivered upon payment in full of the purchase price at offices of Mortgagee's counsel or otherwise as may be mutually agreed. Purchaser will be responsible for all closing costs, state excise and documentary stamps and recording fees. The deposit paid at the time of sale shall be forfeited if the purchaser does not comply strictly with the terms of sale.

For authority of said sale see Decree of the Land Court, Case No. 204179. The description of the premises in the mortgage shall control in the event of a typographical error in this publication.

Other terms to be announced at the time of sale which shall be binding on all bidders.

Sale to be held by Public Auction at or adjacent to the above-described premises, 65 Barbara D. Lane, Tewksbury, Middlesex County, Massachusetts on April 6, 1995 at 11:00 O'clock A.M.

Final spots for playoffs coming up

by Donnie Ahern
Last week the Wilmington Adult Hockey play saw the Ice Hogs win, the Blue liners win and the White Knights tie. For those who don't know the picture with only two games remaining on the schedule: If the White Knights gain one more point in either of their last two games. There in! But if the Ice Hogs win, their last two and the White Knights fail to gain a point, there in!.

As for the Blue liners, their in no matter what the only thing is where they finish, third or fourth. Whoever finishes fourth, well they play the Outlaws with a record at 22-6. So that fight for position matters a lot come playoff time, with a one game elimination.

Golden State seems to have second rapped up. It's believable that most players would rather face Golden State first.

Now for how the League went.

Most of the year nets were terrible, but what else is new. Management was satisfactory. Money probably was the number one issue and as for how the rink treated the players, labor was fabulous, but executives, were the usual, close minded, and acted as though they never had a say in any matter; simply treated like second class citizens.

That's fine there are other rinks around. Maybe the problem is who's running the ninth, (I couldn't tell you).

Wedding benefits Cancer Society

Imagine you are standing at the altar on the most important day of your life when suddenly you hear whispers from behind. "What is she doing here? I can't believe the ex-lover would come to the wedding!"

That is exactly what happens to Stella as she is marrying Angelo.

Luckily, they are only characters created by playwright Amy Shapiro to help raise funds for the American Cancer Society (ACS).

The ACS presents the rip-roaring wedding, between Stella Dorra and Angelo Bury-yo for two engagements Sunday March 26, in Gloucester and Sunday, April 2, in Wakefield, both at 5 pm.

Shapiro says, "Come and have a great time. There will be great music, great food, great singing, and a great play. The play is guaranteed to make you laugh and laughter is the best medicine".

The play is raising money for breast cancer research and education. For women, breast cancer is the second largest killer among all cancers. Shapiro said the dedication of all the proceeds to this cause is a major reason for her involvement. She also commented, "The talent is fantastic!" Many professional artists, actors and singers are donating their time.

However, volunteer support is nothing new to the ACS. According to Carol Marrano-Shapiro, president of the Heritage Unit of the American Cancer Society, the ACS has the largest number of volunteers of

The Bramante brothers

Fishing is their life

By: James B. Goldsmith

"Gloucester is an ancient port, as ancient ports go in our country, having been settled in 1623. The first settlers went there to fish. When a divine of that early day came among them and said, 'remember brethren, that you journeyed here to save your souls' one of the brethren is reported to have arisen to remark: and to ketch fish." (Chapter 13, The Spirit of Gloucester, Book of The Gloucester Fishermen by James B. Connolly).

STONEHAM - One of the most important New England stories of 1994 was the shortage of haddock, cod and flounder affecting thousands of commercial fishermen from Eastport, ME to Cape May, New Jersey. Men like the Bramante brothers of Reading, Stoneham and Wakefield wonder if the next generation will enjoy going down to the seas in ships like their fathers and grandfathers.

As the demand for salt water fish increases because of its nutritional value and good taste, the supply has decreased worldwide and the price increased. Men like the Bramantes are caught on the horns of a dilemma; they have owned their trawlers for years and love the independence of casting off their lines from the Boston Fish Pier and heading out to sea for a week to 10 days.

However, the stocks of haddock, cod and flounder have been so drastically reduced that scientists estimate it will be 10-12 years before these species begin to return in numbers great enough to sustain a commercial fishery.

In the meantime Salvatore, who lives in Reading, Peter who lives in Wakefield and James from Stoneham, will go to sea but their future lies with their sons and nephews who run a fish processing plant on the Boston Fish Pier and who recently opened a restaurant and seafood outlet, the Captain's Quarters.

Salvatore Bramante, Sr., immigrated to the United States from Augusta, Sicily in 1901 and settled with his wife in Boston's West End, Scollay Square. Salvatore's six sons went to school and sold newspapers but when they became teenagers they looked forward to going fishing with their father during the summer. James Bramante says proudly, "Five of the six brothers are still working on the Boston Fish Pier."

During the halcyon days, the 1960's, the brothers owned seven stern trawl draggers. Today life at the Boston Fish Pier appears to be the same; the pier comes alive at daybreak with the smell of fresh ground coffee beans when the wind is out of the west, and sewage when an east wind reminds workers that Deer

Mayday!

Remembering a day in 1966

Mayday, Mayday... We're on fire. The word fire is enough to frighten the most crusty seagoing skipper, but when it happens.

Well, let's hear it from the Bramante brothers. James was at the wheel of the Caracara, a 95' converted minesweeper, when all hell broke loose on the stern trawl dragger which was plowing through moderate seas on Sept. 13, 1966. It was 4:30-5:00 a.m. and the skipper and six man crew were groggy from lack of sleep. Meanwhile, the men were looking forward to seeing their families when Salvy Bramante, Jim's brother, went below to check the engine room; the veteran commercial fisherman spotted a leaky oil fitting, and touched it.

The oil spurted in a steady stream under 300psi pressure and hit the hot turbo charger manifold. Woosh. Acrid black smoke filled the engine room and Salvy raced to the deck to warn Jim and the other crewmen. Jim had to take the two-way radio microphone outside the pilot house when smoke almost overcame him.

The men tried to launch a life raft but a faulty line snapped. They quickly put a small dory

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Need a five-foot stuffed alligator

Or an 'exciting' evening out?

The Woburn Council of Social Concern's seventh annual auction offers both, this Saturday, April 1st, in Woburn.

Area businesses and individuals have donated hundreds of items and services ranging from 900 feet of track lighting to airline and theater tickets, car tires, new cabinets, collectibles, lessons, professional services, a hockey stick autographed by Bobby Orr to "Dave," a juggling act, and 500 square feet of commercial space in Woburn.

Auction Co-Chairs Eileen Mills and John McElhinney are very grateful to the many generous donors and volunteers, and invite community support for the event which is part of the Council 25th year of "neighbors helping neighbors."

Sorry: the five-foot stuffed alligator is an item from another era. For more information on the upcoming auction, call (617)935-6495.

AIDSwatch

Half the Massachusetts residents with AIDS live outside Greater Boston, up in less than 10 years from 33 percent.

From 25,000 to 30,000 people in Massachusetts are thought to be HIV-positive with an average of six or more infected each day. Many of those infected have no clue.

A diagnosis of AIDS means that a person with HIV has an extremely low level of helper T cells, or has certain illnesses. Massachusetts is about to log its 10,000th case of AIDS. And by the time it does, 6,000 of those logged in will have died.

According to AIDS Action Committee Executive Director Larry Kessler via AP reports, although "in the city, we see things leveling more or less," there seems to be a more rapid rate of increase in suburban and rural areas than in the past.

The following statistics on Middlesex East cities and towns were released by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. The number of "AIDS cases reported" is cumulative, as of March 1, 1995. The list does not include prisoners or towns or cities with less than five reported cases.

Local data includes: Burlington - 10, Lynnfield - 6, Malden - 83, Medford - 55, Melrose - 23, North Reading - 8, Reading - 11, Stoneham - 13, Tewksbury - 9, Wakefield - 20, Wilmington - 10, Winchester - 9, and Woburn - 25.

Fourthright and forthcoming

The Wakefield Fourth of July parade is the largest held in Massachusetts and the second largest in New England, according to Dan Benjamin, the Wakefield Independence Day Committee business relations coordinator.

The call is out to businesses in Wakefield and surrounding communities to help fund the event which costs more than $50,000 a year and which brings in about 100,000 spectators.

The parade committee is composed of private citizens who volunteer their time and who are committed to keeping the parade "alive and well" in Wakefield for years to come.

Any donations of any size are appreciated. Major sponsors - $1,000 or more - are entitled to two seats on the reviewing stand and publicity as sponsors of a "world class" marching band or unit. Supporting sponsors - $500 or more - are entitled to publicity announcing the donation, sponsorship of a band or marching unit and appropriate signage. Sponsors - $150 or more - are entitled to a sign. Boosters - $50 or more - are entitled to feel good about a deed well done.

Tradition, community pride, and good business sense are part of the picture, rain or shine. Send money: all donations are tax-deductible. Mail them to The Wakefield Independence Day Committee, P.O. Box 1746, Wakefield, MA 01880 or call Benjamin at (617)246-1291 after 3 p.m.

"About The Towns" covers recent events in the 13-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About The Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867.

Give ABILITY a chance.

Giving U.S. Savings Bonds passes an important lesson on to the future generation. Bonds can teach our children how to save, how interest grows and how a small investment can help make their dreams come true.

So share the tradition of U.S. Savings Bonds. They're the gift that gives back more than you've given.

Fishing is their life

From S-1

Island's sewage treatment plant needs attention.

Honking horns and headlights pierce the early morning chill as the Bramante brothers and scores of commercial fishermen lay in a good supply of ice and diesel fuel. Meanwhile, Salvatore gives his charts a final check in the pilot house as workers in yellow slickers and black rubber boots shuffle along the pier waiting for stern trawl dragners and haddock, cod and yellow tail flounder which once were so plentiful.

Salvatore Bramante says with a note of pride and sadness, "Our father saw the fish pier (off Northern Avenue) built; in our lifetime we might see it become a trade center with office buildings."

Today we are landing 20-25% fewer fish (Than in the days of the 1940's and 50's) when we were fishing in Canadian waters (now off limit to all U.S. commercial fishermen- George's Bank). Sal Bramante says,

"The first fish auction in the United States was held in Boston when the Boston Fish Pier was completed in 1914; 18,000,000 pounds of fish were stored in the cold storage facility at the end of the pier while more than 170,000 tons of ice was made each year for the vast fishing fleet."

Canada and the United States are neighbors, and like all neighbors have disagreements which (in this relationship) have arisen over trade and fishing rights on the once rich Georges Bank. Salvatore Bramante says, "Canada supplies haddock to the Boston market - the fishing agreements are one-sided; they favor Canada on fish size and tariffs. A little sharing of the Northeast Peak (Georges Bank) would go a long way." (toward making the United States' commercial fishermen happy and productive.)

Many species including haddock, cod and yellow tail flounder are so drastically reduced, the delicate balance between man and nature has been seriously thrown out of whack. The government, National Marine Fisheries Service and the New England Fisheries Commission are charged with the awesome responsibility of helping decide what rules and regulations are needed to protect stocks of all groundfish and seafood.

This places these government agencies in the line of fire when irate fishermen fire verbal volleys at public hearing; in effect the fishermen contend they need more than 88 days at sea to make a living and the government scientists and advisors contend unless we give groundfish 10-12 years to reproduce there won't be enough fish to catch.

Are there any hopeful signs on the commercial fishery horizon? Yes, says Kenneth L. Beal, assistant division chief, NMFS, Gloucester, "Swan's Island, in Maine, will produce cod eggs and juveniles this year and Atlantic Aquafarms, (also in Maine) is hatching haddock and cod eggs which will be introduced into the Gulf of Maine." Aquaculture is a multi billion dollar industry worldwide which raises up fresh and salt water fish under controlled conditions. To the commercial fishermen they are villains intent on encroaching upon the commercial fisherman's "turf."

Most likely the Atlantic salmon you bought this morning for your lenten meal tonight was raised under these conditions. To scientists, biologists and fishery management people, aquaculture is one of several viable options to save the dying commercial fishing industry. Rep. Anthony J. Verga, (5th Essex District, Rockport, Essex & Gloucester) is very knowledgeable about commercial fishing and its many problems.

Rep. Verga lives in Gloucester and was executive director of the Gloucester Fisheries Commission before being elected state representative. He says, "I'm optimistic by nature, but I'm also a realist; my feeling is that there is going to be a drastic reduction of (commercial fishing boats) from Eastport, ME to Cape May, N.J. The $2,000,000 buyback (proposed by the government to pay commercial fishermen for their boats and gear) isn't enough. You need perhaps $100,000,000.

Gloucester has the lowest number of commercial fishing boats, ever. "What about under-utilized species? The state representative says, "You need flexibility to go from one fishery to another and more stringent regulations (in the form of a workable quota system) like the one in place for bluefin tuna.

"When you approach a quota, let's say it's 100 metric tons for herring, close the fisheries in all the different geographic areas."

In the interim, the three Bramante brothers aren't getting any younger and their chosen and cherished way of life is being tossed about like a cork on the briny. Today James says "Fifty percent of our haul is monkfish, 25 percent flounder and 25 percent mixed (species)." The brothers say there is too much government regulation in the commercial fishing business today and many of the rules and regulations lack common sense. Is there any hope - a rainbow and pot of fish on the horizon? James says, "Just this week a run of (small) cod was struck seven to eight miles off Swampscott."

The legacy our generation hopefully will leave to our children, grandchildren and great grandchildren is a harvest of salt water fish that will fill their nets and expectations. We owe them that much so that they, like the Gloucester fishermen, will always be able to go down to the sea in ships..

Mayday

overboard and six crewmen bobbed like a cork on the endless ocean some 25 miles from Boston between Boston and Provincetown.

The tiny dory smashed into the Caracara's hull as Salvatore Bramante stayed with his dragger to try to cut off air which was feeding the diesel fire. James says, "Salvy pulled me up on the block and tackle. I was exhausted from lack of sleep." Soon the rest of the crew was aboard the Caracara but far from safe.

Dawn finally turned a dull gray black sky to scarlet pink and a U.S. Coast Guard cutter pulled alongside after what seemed an eternity to the dazed, anxious seamen.

The Coast Guard tried putting out the fire with water, but that only filled the deck with water and added weight to the sinking Caracara. Soon the cutter's captain radioed a passing destroyer which has chemicals aboard made to fight oil fires.

A Coast Guard helicopter from Salem, MA transported more chemicals to the burning dragger and finally the fire was extinguished. The good news was all seven crewmen arrived home safely with 65,000 pounds of haddock iced down in the dragger's hold.

Free heart health program

If you ever experience chest pain, seek medical attention immediately. That was one of the main messages at a recent lecture by Melrose Internist/Cardiologist Allen Criss, M.D. held to increase awareness of the importance of recognizing the signs and symptoms of a heart attack.

"Recognizing the signs and symptoms of a heart attack should be a high priority for men and women of all ages," Dr. Criss says. "Seeking immediate help is extremely important because 50 percent of heart attack victims die before reaching the hospital, many of them because they either didn't recognize the signs of a heart attack or simply didn't take them seriously enough."

"Although there is a lot that can be done for heart attack victims today, the longer a person waits, the higher the chance that delay may cost the heart attack victim his or her life," he continues. "For example, clot busters, which dissolve a clot in the heart's artery and can virtually stop a heart attack in its tracks, are most effective when used within two to six hours, and are considerably less effective when administered 10-12 hours after the onset of a heart attack."

Stressing the importance of that point, Dr. Criss says, "In all my years of practice, I have never heard a doctor or nurse say that a potential heart attack patient should not have come to the emergency room. That's because we know how important it is that a heart attack victim receives immediate help. So, if you think you are suffering a heart attack or angina, by all means come in. We'd rather see you six times, than see you once, when it's too late."

Well over 200 community residents attended the free Take It To Heart lecture at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital, which was sponsored by the MWH Cardiac Rehabilitation Program. Heart disease is the number one killer in the United States for men and post menopausal women. Factors that put individuals at an increased risk of heart disease, include: high blood pressure, smoking, obesity, high cholesterol, a sedentary lifestyle and a family history of heart disease. Many of the hospital's resources were offered to individuals with controllable risk factors, including the hospital's smoking cessation programs and low cost cholesterol tests.

To round out Take It To Heart, the evening's participants snacked on heart healthy snacks and were given the opportunity to ask Dr. Criss and the Cardiac Rehabilitation staff many of the questions they sometimes forget when they are visiting their doctor. For a free informational HeartSmarts package, please call the MWH Public Relations Department at 979-3 507.

FIRST PARISH ANTIQUE SHOW AND SALE

The First Parish Congregational Church of Wakefield is pleased to announce the Twenty-fourth Annual Antique Show and Sale. This year's show and sale is scheduled for Friday, March 31, from 5-9 pm and Saturday April 1, from 10 am - 3 pm.

Those who have attended this antique show in the past will find that many of their favorite dealers have returned, as well as some new and very interesting displays, adding both variety and quality to the merchandise offered this year.

The usual diversification of merchandise will be found, with choice articles in jewelry, country furniture, old books, postcards, toys, glassware, silver and rugs.

A snack bar will be in operation throughout the show, which will provide light meals. Members of the church will be in charge of the snack bar to provide tasty home-cooked food. In the spirit of our heritage, and with a renewed appreciation for some of the beautiful and valuable products of early America, the public is invited to attend the Twenty-fourth Annual Antiques Show and Sale.

The church is located at the southern end of Lake Quannapowitt, near the center of town. Ample parking is available in the church parking lot. The admission charge is nominal.

TROUT STOCKING UNDERWAY

Spring trout stocking is now underway and the Division of Fisheries and Wildlife reports that it will be releasing an estimated 750,000 brook, brown and rainbow trout. These fish are sure to fuel spring fishing fever among Bay State anglers.

According to Dr. Mark Tisa, Assistant Director of Fisheries, more than half of the trout exceed 12" in length including 30,000 rainbow trout that are larger than 16" and 57,000 brown trout that measure more than 13".

Lake and pond stocking is already underway in all of the state's five wildlife districts. River and brook stocking is expected to begin once high spring flows subside.

A freshly updated version of the Commonwealth's trout stocking list is now available from the Division of Fisheries and Wildlife. To obtain a copy sent a self addressed, stamped envelope to: Stocking List, Mass. Division of Fisheries & Wildlife, Westboro, MA 01581.

can set priorities; a skilled communicator and listener who understands current educational theories; a leader able to effect and implement change; a leader experienced in dealing with significant problems; and one who can develop consensus and be a creative fiscal manager.

Several ideas surfaced as to how and where the new superintendent should begin. Among them were the suggestions that he or she meet with administrators individually and collectively to determine what programs have been successful in Winchester and what needs to be improved; and he or she should learn community history, analyzing school system needs and setting immediate priorities.

Winchester town officials and citizens met recently with William Zimmerman of the New England School Development Council to decide upon the qualities and characteristics they want in the superintendent who will replace Robert Fitzgerald when he retires in August.

Zimmerman began the workshop by asking those present to describe the most important attributes and experiences they'd like a new superintendent to have and what they would like to see him or her do in the first six months to a year on the job.

The group chose the following top characteristics: a competent leader who inspires others and Community theater is their bag, and their five-star company is a theater arts program open to students ages eight to 15 who want to learn and develop theatrical and performance skills by working with professional artists and teachers.

The summer session runs from July 3rd to 27th, with performances on the 28th and 29th. En route to the main production, the program encompasses acting, singing, improvisation, dance, stage craft, vocal technique, performance, and make-up, set, and costume design.

This year's play is "No, No, Nannette," and auditioners are asked to bring along a completed registration form, brief resume and photo - and to be prepared to learn "I Want to be Happy" in the key of C. Auditioners will be asked to read from the script and dance auditions will also be held. For all the details, phone (508)531-3357.

photography show running from April 8-29. Professional, amateur and beginning photographers are welcome to submit framed entries, either black and white or color, in categories of Landscape, Wildlife and Abstract.

There should be no signs of humans in the pictures (no fences, walls, people, houses, boats, feeders, etc.). There is a $7 fee per entry and each artist may enter up to five photos.

Participants should deliver entries in person to the South Shore Regional Office, 2000 Main Street in Marshfield on Saturday, March 25, between 9 am and 4 pm, March 27-31 between 9 am and 4 pm or Saturday, April 1, by 11:30 am. Entries should be at least 9.5" X 7.5" and be securely framed and ready for hanging.

Each entry should be accompanied by a brief biography for the "Artists Notebook" on display during the show. An acceptance notification will be sent to entrants on Saturday, April 1.

Experienced nature photographers will judge the show and the sanctuary will award prizes to first, second and third place. Award winners and honorable mentions will be displayed at the south Shore Regional Center between April 8 and April 29 with an opening reception on Saturday, April 8, between 1 and 4 pm.

For more information and an official entry form, contact Massachusetts Audubon's South Shore Regional Center at (617)837-9400.

LOCAL VOLUNTEERS SEEK LOVING FAMILIES

Nearly 1,000 volunteers nation wide are seeking host families for foreign exchange students in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE). Families are being sought for high school aged students from Europe, Asia, South America, Australia, and the former Soviet Union for the 1995-96 school year.

Each year, thousands of American families welcome a foreign exchange student into their homes. By continuing this tradition of generosity, these families are contributing to the growing movement toward world peace. AISE is a nation wide non profit organization which is currently seeking host families across the United States to host those foreign exchange students.

These exceptional student ages 15-18, will arrive in the United States at the end of August, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June of 1996. the students all fluent in English, have been carefully screened by local representatives in their home countries and have their own medical insurance and spending money.

AISE's main focus is teaching young people about the importance of acceptance of other cultures. This is your opportunity to introduce your family to the many differing cultures of the world. If you would like to read some of the many student profiles AISE has on file, call 1-800-SIBLING.

KERRY TO SPEAK AT PHILLIPS ACADEMY

Massachusetts Senator John Kerry will speak at Phillips Academy in the school's Cochran Chapel, Chapel Avenue, on Sunday April 9, at 7:30 pm. The lecture which is free and open to the public, is titled "How Congress Works or Does Not Work and Why".

Currently in his second term, Senator Kerry is a member of the Banking and Commerce Committees, where he has recently been appointed the senior Democratic member of the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Development.

He is also a senior member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senate Intelligence Committee, where he is the senior Democrat on the Foreign Relations Subcommittee on International Operations.

Kerry is president of GLOBE-USA, a group of international legislators dedicated to forging an international environmental agenda. He also is a member of the Democratic Senate leadership team and serves as chairman of the Senate Democratic Steering and Coordination Committee.

SWING INTO SPRING WITH RECYCLING

This spring Massachusetts Special Olympics is helping Bay State residents get a jump on their spring cleaning with its automobile recycling program. "Recycle for Gold". According to program director Bob Midgley, "This is a great opportunity to get rid of that unwanted clunker that's been sitting in your drive way all winter".

Under the "Recycle for Gold" program, Massachusetts residents can donate their unwanted cars and trucks. to Special

IRS offers electronic filing of tax return

"Personal computer users may find it easier this year to do their taxes. The Internal Revenue Service has announced new opportunities for on-line filing of tax returns as well as for retrieving federal tax forms and publications on a personal computer," said Francine Crowley, Boston IRS District Director.

CompuServe and America Online (AOL) are offering electronic filing to their subscribers. Check with your on line service about required tax preparation software and transmission fees.

To file on line, a taxpayer must transmit a completed return file to an on line service, to be filled out on screen.

ELECTRONIC FILING

Taxpayers who are not home computer users have the option of using the IRS's Electronic Filing Program, through accepted return preparers. This system is available for balance due as well as refund returns. Taxpayers can file early and which converts the file to the format for electronic filing. The on-line service will then transmit the return to the IRS. The IRS will notify the taxpayer through the on-line service whether the return is accepted, or if not, which items the taxpayer must correct.

After the IRS accepts the return, the taxpayer must mail directly to the IRS, along with any W-2 forms, a signed form 8453-OL. This form is a one page signature document available for downloading from the on-line service.

Personal computer users not filing electronically through CompuServe or AOL may still shorten their paperwork and choose direct deposit for their refunds by using the 1040PC option offered in may tax preparation software programs.

The 1040PC is a condensed format return that shows the line numbers and entries only for those lines on the tax form that the taxpayer uses. The resulting printout is a three column list that can reduce a return to two pages. Standard computers and printers produce the 1040PC on plain paper.

The IRS is also making hundreds of its most popular forms, instructions and publications available electronically. Three on-line services CompuServe, AOL, Genie as well as FedWorld, a government bulletin board, now have these items available for both return preparers and individual taxpayers.

Subscribers can ask their on-line service for details on accessing the IRS information. The forms and publications are available in various file formats, including HP Laserjet, HP Printer Control Language, Postscript and PDF. For those who don't already have the software for any of these formats, the on-line services and FedWorld offer free Adobe Acrobat software to read and print the PDF format files in Windows or Macintosh. Users must print the tax forms to use them the forms are not designed make their payments by April 18, 1995. For refund taxpayers, electronic filing means a faster refund and the option of having the money directly deposited into their bank accounts. "Electronically filed returns are more accurate returns because the software programs involved can catch and correct mistakes. If there are errors on electronically filed returns, the system alerts the senders within a day or two so they can make corrections and re-transmit the return," said Crowley.

Usually within 24 hours, the electronic filer receives a message that the IRS has accepted the return for processing.

The IRS projects that 15.5 million income tax returns will be filed electronically this year. Remember, this year the filing deadline for taxpayers who file through the Andover Service Center is April 18, 1995. This date applies only to federal returns filed in Massachusetts, and is due to the fact that April 15th falls on a weekend and Monday, April 17, 1995 is a state holiday.

MOVIES

"Dolores Claiborne", Short Takes

"Dolores Claiborne" starring Kathy Bates, Jennifer Jason Leigh, David Strathairn, Christopher Plummer, John C. Reilly, Eric Bogosian. Directed by Taylor Hackford. Screenplay by Tony Gilroy. Produced by Hackford, Charles Mulvihill. Based on the novel by Stephen King. Rated R.

Did she or didn't she? Dark secrets, family torments, and two murders swirl around the stoic, hardened figure of Dolores Claiborne, a housekeeper accused of murdering her employer of 22 years. Then there was that timely accident that took Dolores' husband during the solar eclipse of 1975. Yet with all the somber suffering that follows Dolores like a miasma of pain, none of it compares with the heartache of a relationship she has with her grown daughter.

Though this flick is rife with horror, it isn't of the supernatural kind, but of the torment only real people can impose on one another. Quite a change from most movies adapted from Stephen King's work, and without a doubt the best, even surpassing "Misery" and "The Shawshank Redemption." If Kathy Bates blew you away with her Academy Award-winning performance in "Misery," wait until you see her tussle with her drunk of a husband in this involving thriller.

Though two stories are told simultaneously, that of the current murder and the death of Dolores' husband 18 years earlier, the real story at the heart of this bleak and layered tale is a corrosive mother/daughter relationship. An investigative reporter surviving on pills, booze, and cigarettes, Dolores' daughter Selena has returned to the tiny island off the Maine coast for the first time in 15 years. She arrives partly out of duty, but mostly because of a burning desire to know what happened to her dad.

As the daughter, Jennifer Jason Leigh has perfected the art of tortured, angry angst. Raw and emotional, she is trying to hang onto the cool journalistic stance that has become second nature to her. Though Leigh's performance is mesmerizing, this is Bates' film.

Part of the story is told in flashback, so Bates is really playing two women. One is the younger housewife and mother trying to make a life with a bitter drunk of a husband, played with vicious reality by David Strathairn. She is then aged nearly 20 years to the hardened, stubborn housekeeper a mainland investigator is just dying to haul in on murder charges. In both instances, Bates' Down East accent is unfaltering; her intensity and integrity to both versions of Dolores never fails.

Of course, Bates had plenty to work with. The script is full of colorful language and

Director Taylor Hackford successfully weaves several plot threads and psychological dilemma throughout this engrossing tale without diminishing any of them. He masterfully flashes us into the bad old days by allowing us to see what triggers a memory in either Dolores or her unhappy, talented daughter. Using this trick, he fills in the gaps to a past Selena would rather forget and that has continuously haunted her mother.

KATHY BATES is Dolores Claiborne in the dramatic psychological thriller about a woman accused of murdering her notoriously difficult employer in Castle Rock Entertainment's "Dolores Claiborne" directed by Taylor Hackford.

Hackford not only gives his two leading actresses plenty of room to play out their uneasy reunion, but he brings the landscape to life around him. The present is austere, positively unwelcoming in its drizzling and dilapidated griminess. The past is sunnier, more cheerful, and in many ways that makes the pain all the more palpable. When the film's best kept secret is finally given up, it occurs under the surreal backdrop of a solar eclipse that is a truly sensational bit of cinematography.

The entire movie is as close to perfect entertainment as you can ever expect. The supporting cast is memorable and strong, especially Christopher Plummer as the relentless police investigator with a hidden agenda. And the dense and intelligent script pulls you in with such force you can hardly believe the movie runs over two hours.

Short Takes

Losing Isaiah tells the difficult tale of an affluent white couple who adopt a black crack baby, only to have his mother surface three years later, looking for custody. Though the film ultimately flounders under a hesitant ending, Jessica Lange is such a dynamo as the adoptive mother that this tragic story still comes highly recommended. Halle Berry is plausible as the recovered addict, but her performance is callow when compared to Lange, whose emotional depth drives the controversial race issues churned up by this film. Rated R. 1/2

Dodson and Martin return to Linden Tree April 1st

David Dodson and Donna Martin, two outstanding performers will return to the Linden Tree Coffeehouse on Saturday, April 1. In honor of the day, there will be much humor and great music, promises the coordinators of the monthly concert series.

David Dodson is a Maine songwriter, singer, guitarist, and humorist. He is known for his ability to write and perform many types of music with authority and verve. His songs are accessible, poetic, often humorous, continually surprising and cover such diverse topics as life, death, yard sales, woodchucks, overpopulation and cars.

On stage David is quite at ease which allows for a good story or conversations with the audience. His two albums, "Restless Romantic Days" and "Goldenrod" exemplifies his gift to entertain the willing listener.

Since her emergence in the Northeast acoustic world in 1991 word about "the woman with the red guitar' has been getting out. Donna Martin roots in rhythm and blues and as a vocalist and guitarist for the top country band in Connecticut have influenced her crossover into acoustic folk. Martin was voted the most popular new singer at the Falcon Ridge Festival back in 1993 and will be a Saturday headliner there this summer.

Audiences there and last year at the Linden Tree were wowed by her gutsy voice, virtuosity, and riveting style. Selections from her CDs "Farewell Scenes" and her recent "Call it Home" are often aired on WUMB and WERS.

Opening the evening's show at 8 p.m. will be several surprise guests for the Linden Tree's sampler set. Home baked refreshments will be on hand. The Linden Tree Coffeehouse is partially sponsored by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, Wakefield Chapter. Admission is $6.

The Linden Tree Coffeehouse is located in the social hall of the Unitarian-Universalist Church, 326 Main St., Wakefield. Information: 246-2647.

The Berkshires in Springtime

The Berkshires of Western Massachusetts offer a multitude of things to do every season of the year. Yet, for those visitors seeking peace and quiet at a great place, spring is perhaps the most appealing season of all.

Spring's bounty lies in the awakening of mother nature in the gardens, wildlife sanctuaries, and state forests located throughout the area. Blossoming orchards, trees, azaleas, and mountain laurel offers the visitor grand swaths of color in such abundance that even the local population is in awe.

Of course, some of the Berkshires' most beautiful views are indoors. All four Berkshires art museums have excellent landscape collections. The Williams College Museum of Art has both an excellent collection of Prendergast landscapes and modern paintings.

The impressionist collection at the Clark Art Institute has landscapes by Monet, Renoir and others. The Hudson River School collection at the Berkshire Museum is surprising in its size, as are other large landscapes from the mid-19th Century showing the United States at a wilder stage in its history.

The Norman Rockwell Museum, with the world's largest collection of original Rockwell paintings, offers glimpses of Americana which only the Rockwell eye could capture on canvas.

The outdoor enthusiast will certainly appreciate the many hiking and biking trails in the Berkshires. From Batholomew's Cobble with its exotic plant species in the southernmost part of the county to Mount Greylock with its profusion of birds and wildflowers, hiking is brought to new heights and interests.

Waterfalls, located throughout the country, carry water from the snows of winter down to the streams and rivers. Legends of Indian princesses being tossed to their deaths over the falls are told about both Bash Bish Falls and Wahconah Falls.

Spring heralds the opening of the many Berkshire historic houses; Arrowhead, Herman Melville's home from 1850 to 1863; Chesterwood, summer home of sculptor Daniel Chester French; the oldest house in the Berkshires called the Colonel Ashley house; Hancock Shaker Village; John Sergeant's Mission House; Edith Wharton's The Mount where she lived and worked from 1902 to 1911; and Naumkeag house and gardens, summer home of Joseph Choate.

Many special spring events draw visitors to the Berkshires from all over the world. The Lenox Chamber of Commerce conducts an historic house tour and the Lenox Garden Club a house and garden tour. Stockbridge has a special weekend planned for May 13 and 14. Hancock Shaker Village celebrated Spring Farm Day April

Kim Piccolo of Burlington captures 5 state baton titles

Kim Piccolo of Burlington captured five state titles recently at the Massachusetts State Baton Twirling Championships in Townsend. At the State contest, she placed first in Beginner Strut, Beginner Two-Baton, Beginner Flag, Beginner Basic Strut and Advanced Military March. She also placed in the top three in Beginner Solo and Advanced Modeling.

On January 8, in Lexington, Kim placed 2nd in the 1995 Beginner Miss Majorette of Massachusetts where contestants are judged on solo twirling, strut and modeling routines.

Kim is also the current 1994 Northeast Regional Champ in Beginner Strut and in Advanced Military March. She won those titles in May in Springfield.

Kim won the right to compete at the 1994 Nationals in July at Notre Dame University when she captured the title of 1994 Beginner Miss Majorette of Massachusetts. She came away with a 5th place win in Beginner World Open Flag Baton.

Kim is a member of the Gangi Bay State Strutters under the direction of Tracey Gangi and Elaine Gangi Kane of Woburn. Besides competitions, Kim and her team perform at several basketball games at Brandeis University and march in many parades.

Kim is a 5th grade student at Wildwood Elementary School in Burlington. Kim is the daughter of Sharon and Nick J. Piccolo and sister of Nick T. Piccolo.

Episcopal Church Spring Rummage Sale in Reading

Ushering in the Spring season, on March 31 and April 1, the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, Reading, will hold its annual Spring Rummage Sale, with proceeds to benefit the church community Outreach Program.

According to Win Bourne, chairperson for the event, there will be an array of bargain items for the thrifty buyer to select from: including a book room, furniture, jewelry, linens, good used clothing, a range of toys, puzzles and games, plus a boutique and a large white elephant section. Colorful easter baskets will also be available.

Hours for the Rummage Sale are Friday, March 31, 6-9 pm and Saturday, April 1, from 9 am to 2 pm. The sale will take place in the church building, 95 Woburn Street, near the Reading railroad station.

Admission is free and the public is cordially invited.
